ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

A Brother Finds His Long Lost Sister in Cloverport.

Fleets Her After a Separation of Over Twenty Years.

John H. Power, a farmer living at Neosho, Mo., passed through St. Louis Friday en route home from Cloverport, Ky., where he had been to visit his sister, whom he had not seen in twenty-two years, and of whom he lost all trace twenty years ago, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

He spent an hour in the waiting room at Union Station, and while there told his story to a reporter.

"Back in the seventies," said he, "my folks lived at Joplin, Mo. Father was interested in lead mines there. My sister, Julia, and I, were the only children. I got married and so did Julia. In 1877 father died. Soon afterward Julia went with her husband to live in another town. That's the last I saw of her until our recent meeting. I moved to Neosho and got a good strip of land and knuckled down to improve it. I wrote to Julia, but received no reply. She was in a small town near Carthage, but I could not locate her. Nearly twenty years passed and I gave up all hope of ever seeing her again. About six months ago I received a letter. It was from Julia. It was six months old and must have passed through a dozen post-offices. In it she said she had been trying to track me all the time, and wondered why I never answered her letters. She was then in Metropolis, Ill., but has since moved to Cloverport.

"My partner died a few months ago, and we sold the farm. Then, as I had time, I went to see Julia. Her husband has a fine place and is prosperous, but poor Julia has consumption. I'm afraid I will not see her again."

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Appropriately Celebrated by Miss Shull's Pupils.

The pupils of Miss Shull's private school celebrated Washington's birthday with patriotic exercises. The pupils told anecdotes, wrote compositions and read articles dealing on Washington. Miss Shull cannot be too highly complimented upon the success and worth of her school. She is an ideal teacher.

Lieutenant Peter Brashear went to Washington, D. C. Tuesday to make an effort to get a commission in the regular army. He took with him letters of recommendation from his Lieutenant-Colonel, D. R. Murray, of this city.

Both Reported Better.

Little Ray Heysler, one of the brightest little girls in the city was brought near to death's door this week by an attack of peritonitis. To make matters worse, her mother, Mrs. Foster Heysler, has been very sick. Dr. Owen, their physician, says both are better.

"Durability is Better Than Show."

The wealth of the multi-millionaires is not equal to good health. Riches without health are a curse, and yet the rich, the middle classes and the poor alike have, in Hood's Sarsaparilla, a valuable assistant in getting and maintaining perfect health. It never disappoints.

Scrofula.—Three years ago our son, now eleven, had a serious case of scrofula and erysipelas with dreadful sores, discharging and itching constantly. He could not walk. Several physicians did not help for sixteen months. Three months' treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla made him perfectly well. We are glad to tell others of it. Mac. DAVIS LANE, Ottawa, Kansas.

Hudson.—Venereal sores, distemper and prostration troubled me for years. Had neuralgia, grew weak and could not sleep. My age was against me, but Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me thoroughly. My weight increased from 125 to 145 pounds. I am the mother of nine children. Never felt so well and strong since I was married as I do now. Mrs. N. A. WATSON, 1529 15th St., Washington, D. C.

Wagoner.—We had to tie the hands of our two-year-old son on account of intense neuralgia and limbs. No medicine given until we used Hood's Sarsaparilla, which soon cured. Mrs. A. VAN WICK, 128 Montgomery Street, Kansas, Mo.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
NEVER DISAPPOINTS
Hood's Pills cure the skin, the blood, and the bowels. They are the only medicine that will cure the most stubborn cases of scrofula.

SQUIRREL DENMARK

Is Now Owned By G. N. Lyddan, of Irvington.

Breckenridge county owes a debt of gratitude to G. N. Lyddan, of Irvington. He is a progressive farmer, and has just taken a step that will result in great good to the horse breeding industry of this section. He has purchased the famous stallion, Squirrel Denmark, of W. A. Dickinson, of Trenton, Tenn.

Squirrel Denmark 515 is by Red Squirrel 53, he by Black Squirrel 58; 1st dam Miss Black, by Montrose 106; 2d dam by Washington Denmark 64.

His former owner says of him: "He is 16 hands, the finest finished and biggest natural-styled stud living. For a sire of high-class, fine finished, big, natural-styled, five-gaited saddle horse, I never owned his superior. I never saw a colt by him that was not a high-class, natural-styled and five-gaited horse."

The animal is ready for service and horse owners hereabouts are to be congratulated for the opportunity of securing the services of such a high-class and royally bred sire. He cost a handsome sum of money.

VALUABLE RELICS.

Captain Hennen's Rare Old Dueling Pistols.

He is the Owner of Some Priceless Old Books.

Cap. J. J. Hennen, of Hawesville, is the owner of a number of rare old relics and curios. Among them is a brace of old-time dueling pistols. These pistols he values as a rare possession and would not part with them for money. Their money value is about $200.

The pistols were received from his uncle, James Jennings, and are more than a hundred years old. They were made in Liverpool by Patrick, a famous firearms manufacturer of the long ago. The pistols are of the flint-lock variety and are provided with a double set of locks. Capt. Hennen says they never fail to make fire. The barrels are inlaid with gold, and the stocks are of rosewood. There is also a rosewood case in which they are kept. The balls used are of the same size as the old musket balls, and the barrels are of smooth bore.

Capt. Hennen also has a rare library of old and rare books. Perhaps the most prized of these is Boyd L. Shakespeare's work illustrative of the plays of the great English master. The work is about three feet long and gives the illustrations half life size. It is very valuable for its rarity. At the time it was secured by the Hennen family, which was about thirty years ago, there were only four copies of the work in the United States. "Cath's Indians" is another very valuable and rare book possessed by Capt. Hennen.
