More Gossip on the Political Front

Nash Gibson of Jackson was a visitor at The Eagle's office yesterday, when he would seek the Republican nomination for the county judge. Nash is one of the county's most popular political figures and has been active in county politics for the past four years. He stated that his official appearance would appear in the paper soon.

Southside Banks, employees of Southern Steel Co., indicated yesterday that there would be no change in the Democratic Party in the past few years, but that there would be a change in the next election.

The Republican National Committee announced yesterday that the Red Cross Contributor's Emblem Means Giving is Doing

Standing in front of The Mountain Eagle's main office yesterday was John A. Godfrey, chairman of the Red Cross Circuit No. 1, a statement that will follow:

"We're here to tell you about our circuit. We're here to tell you about all the work that's going on in the Red Cross Circuit No. 1, and we're here to tell you about the work that's going on in the whole country."

Gibson then proceeded to explain the importance of the Red Cross and how it helps to improve the lives of those in need. He also discussed the various ways in which people can contribute to the Red Cross, including donating money, volunteering, and spreading awareness.

More information on how to get involved with the Red Cross can be found on their website or by calling their hotline.
