

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

University of Kentucky

VOL IX

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, NOV. 23, 1916.

No. 10

YOUNG STROLLERS TO BE GUESTS OF HONOR

New Members Will Be Decorated With Colors and Accepted

SKIT WILL FEATURE

Bill Shinnick's "Mellerdramer" Will Be Presented

As the final and most important event of Stroller Week, a reception in honor of the new members, at which they will be formally received into the organization, will be held in the Stroller studio this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. All members of the organization, including the honorary and alumni members, are asked to attend and meet the new members, whose names are given below.

During the afternoon a one-act skit by William Shinnick, stage manager of the Strollers last year, will be presented. The skit, which is called "Virtue Is Its Own Reward," or "How the Ham Saved the Homestead," is a burlesque on the old-fashioned "mellerdrama," and promises to be interesting. The parts will be taken as follows:

Roland Montrose, who holds a mortgage on the old home, William Shinnick.

Harold DeVere, the hero, Emery Frazier.

Arabella Jenkins, a sweet country lass, Mary Turner.

Pa Jenkins, father of Arabella, John R. Marsh.

Ma Jenkins, his wife, Nancy Innis.

Hiram Jenkins, "one of nature's noblemen," Herbert Graham.

At a meeting of the Strollers held last Thursday afternoon, colors, lavender and gold, were adopted and these colors have been worn by the members all this week. This afternoon the colors will be pinned on the new members as a token of their acceptance into the organization. At this time also the "Amateur Night" prizes, which were won by three of the new members, Miss Margaret Wilkinson, Frank Shinnick and Roy Barnhill will be presented.

The new members who were accepted at the meeting last Thursday afternoon are as follows: Frank Shinnick, Margaret Wilkinson, Roy Barnhill, Grover Creech, George Gardner, James Irvine, M. M. Montgomery, W. C. Draddy, Pauline Irvin, Martha Varnon, F. O. Mayes, Josephine Thomas, Lena Clem, Mary Ricketts, Eyrl Richmond, N. W. Knight, Virginia Gray, Elizabeth Beckner, Aileen Kavanaugh, Francis Richey, Richard Duncan, L. A. Bischof, J. R. Vowell, H. H. Barker, Vennie Duley, Katherine Weakley, Freda Laub, Emma Dewitt Vories, Freda Lemon, Clarence Harney, Mamie Miller Woods, Anne and Genevieve Molloy, Helen Burkholder, Glenn Brooks, Tilford Wilson, Hunt Robbennett, Charlie Haydon, J. J. McBrayer,

KENTUCKIAN STAFF FOR 1917 ANNOUNCED

First Meeting Will Be Held Today in Room in Ed. Building

OUTLOOK PROMISING

The staff of the 1917 Kentuckian has at last gotten down to consistent work on the annual and according to F. T. Street, editor-in-chief, is already planning to turn out the biggest and best book ever produced at the University. Definite arrangements have been made with the publisher and each editor, including snap-shot artist and feature man, will be on the job during the next few months.

The new Kentuckian room, which has been fitted out in the basement of the Education Building, is being used now and the editor wishes it announced that the staff will meet there every Thursday afternoon at 3:30 until further notice.

The business and editorial staffs are given out are:

Business Staff.

Charles R. Smith, business manager; W. W. Owsley, assistant business manager; Miss Martine Ratican, assistant business manager; F. O. Mayes, subscription manager; William B. Martin, Junior business manager.

Editorial Staff.

Frank T. Street, Jr., editor-in-chief; Clarence Clark, assistant editor; L. A. Bradford, assistant editor; Marie Becker, assistant editor; William Shinnick, feature editor; Tom Underwood, athletic editor; Anita Crabbe, literary editor; E. A. Taylor, snap-shot editor; Morris Pendleton, art editor; G. B. Fishback, Junior editor.

FISHBACK JUNIOR KENTUCKIAN EDITOR

Ben Fishback was elected Junior Editor of the Kentuckian at a meeting of the Junior class held in chapel last Thursday afternoon. T. T. Richards was chosen class cheer leader. Members of the Student Senate were appointed by President W. L. Logan as follows: C. P. Wyatt, H. M. Henry, Ellis Peak and Louis Reusch, Jr.

DEAN ANDERSON WILL REPRESENT UNIVERSITY.

Dean F. Paul Anderson will represent the University at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in New York, December 4-9. Sessions of the society will be held in the $1,000,000 building, a gift of Andrew Carnegie. Many prominent engineers and deans of engineering colleges throughout the country will attend the convention.

Marie Collins, Addison Foster, Charles F. Corn, Homer Combest, Hart Mathewly, Dave Glickman, Emma Holton, Juliet Lee Risque, Alma Bolser, Charles Mahoney, J. W. Lindsay and J. M. Gibson.

SUBMISSION.

(By Fred O. Mayes.)

I would not know the end of all
My dreams, however grand they be;
Nor should I want to e'er recall
What might have been the best for me.

But grant today with all its doubts
With all its doubts and all its fears,
And let me travel 'long the routes
Where all is new to eyes and ears.

Let me not feel long 'ere their time
The aches and pains that are my share;
Nor can I feel the art sublime
To know that pleasure precedes care.

And if the whole of life were known,
And all its secrets brought to light,
It were not proper then to own
A higher sway than man's poor might.

For me I choose to wonder still,
To marvel with the childlike mind,
To think beyond the human will
A vale's too deep for human kind.

MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM IN CHAPEL PLEASES

Vocal and Instrumental Solos Features of Exercises

The University Music Club had charge of the exercises in chapel last Friday morning and rendered one of the most attractive programs of the year. The cadet band opened the exercises with various University songs. When they played "Are You From Dixie," and sang new words to the tune, their efforts were crowned with prolonged applause.

Features of the program were a solo by Miss Helen Burkholder, accompanied by Miss Frances Geisel; vocal solo by Professor A. C. Zembrod; piano solo by Miss Marion Sprague, and a violin solo by Edwin Cobb, accompanied by John Price.

Professor Lawrence A. Cover, musical director, announced the beginning of a campaign for members to the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs. The former organization has at present a membership of sixty, while the latter has forty enrolled. It is Professor Cover's intention to find all musical talent in the University and then effect organizations for the purpose of developing it.

"A band of fifty pieces is our aim," said Professor Cover. New equipment has been received which is sufficient for a band of that size. The band will give a concert in chapel in a few weeks as the announcement made by Professor Melcher after a conference with Professor Cover.

The Lexington College of Music will have charge of the chapel exercises tomorrow, when another musical program will be given.

HIGH SCHOOL LETTERS TABOOED BY "K" MEN

Indiscriminate Wearing of Unearned Letters Under Ban, Too

BY-LAWS ARE ADOPTED

The "K" men of the University at a recent meeting took up the matter of the indiscriminate wearing of athletic letters, especially of high school sweaters. The wearing of unearned athletic letters and also of "H's" by high school athletic stars has always been tabooed but in order to eradicate this nuisance the "K" association has adopted by-laws prohibiting these letters from being worn and providing punishment in case this rule is broken. The by-laws follow:

"No person in the University shall be permitted to wear any letter except the one he made in that particular form of athletics, e. g., a baseball man shall not be permitted to wear a football or basketball sweater unless he has made a letter of that kind.

"Persons who have made letters at other colleges or universities shall not be permitted to wear them at the University of Kentucky.

"High school letters are absolutely forbidden to be worn at this institution.

"Girls will be permitted to wear only earned "K" sweaters.

"Persons trespassing upon the privileges of this association shall be coerced by armed force if such it takes."

The by-laws were signed by W. P. Tuttle, George Gumbert and Frank Crum, who composed the committee.

PROF. ROBERTS MADE SOCIETY TREASURER

Professor George Roberts, acting dean of the College of Agriculture, was re-elected for the fifth time treasurer of the American Society of Agronomy at the sessions of the American Society of Agronomy and the Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, held at Washington, D. C., last week. Professor Roberts, who attended, returned from Washington Saturday and reported that more than 100 leading agronomists of the country were present at the meetings.

STUDENTS SPEAK AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

The Y. M. C. A. meeting held in the "Y" rooms Sunday evening proved to be a very interesting one. Prominent speakers of the occasion were J. B. Chamberlain, Bart Peak, and J. Franklin Corn. Mr. Chamberlain spoke on "College Spirit in the Classroom." Bart Peak's subject was "Student Activities." Mr. Corn discussed college spirit on the campus. The meeting was one of the most successful held this year.

THIRTEEN UNLUCKY FOR THE MISSISSIPPI CREW

Merciless Wildcats Hand Southerners 13-3 Drubbing

STATE WINS SERIES

Captain Crutcher Stars In His Last Game on Stoll Field

(By Tom Underwood.)

Saturday was wash day and the Wildcats felt called upon to clean up Mississippi A. & M. in Stoll laundry room with Doc, Brit, Maury and Mac wielding wicked scrubbing brushes. Schwill splashed three drops of water on the Kentucky soap and towel crew in the first part of the application of suds, but the Cats hopped in as soon as the water began to get hot and sapolied the Aggies thirteen unlucky times. The game ended with Mississippi's crowd so well scrubbed that they looked as clean as a white-washed fence in Spotless Town.

The thirteen-to-three defeat means that Kentucky has the best of the series of three contests with Mississippi A. & M. The first was when the Mississippians greased up their pants with lard or something. It was a pretty slick (pun) trick but they couldn't get away with it, because one of the officials had once worked in a grocery store and was a connoisseur of lard. At this writing George Washington, janitor extraordinary, is in the office of the sporting writer of the Kernel (rich humor) trying to tell how it all happened. He says it was a greasy trick.

The second Miss-Ky. game was the hot weather performance down in the Sunny South last year when the Wildcats thought Apollo had let that infernal upstart Daedalus get to Monkey-shining with the Ford in which he and the sun went riding every day. It was hot as —, well you know, and the Wildcats couldn't stand it.

The outcome of the game was a surprise to everybody but this Sweatt bird, we started to say "sweat bee," but were afraid it wouldn't be dignified. Anyway, Mr. Sweatt, Freshman, 290 pounds, sore foot, says that he guessed the score exactly, thirteen to three, two days before. Bernard Moosnick swears its so but the sporting editor of the Kernel doesn't think that either hurts or helps the story.

George Washington, who is still in our office trying to get us to write him an appeal to the students asking them to contribute to a million dollar turkey-buying fund to help him and the little Washington's celebrate the victory Kentucky's going to get over Tennessee a week from Thursday, says he also knew all the time that Kentucky would win.

The Star Performers.

The majority of the praise goes to

(Continued on Page Five)