RICHARDSON'S

IRISH LINENS,

DAMASKS, DIAPERS, &c.

CONSUMERS of Richardson's Linens, and those desiring of obtaining the genuine article, should see that the stamped cartons purchased are sealed with the full name of the manufacturer, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of Inferior and Unsound Linens are yearly offered to the public, and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury done to the character of the manufacturers and the manufactures of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

Jeffersonville in Arms—Great Excitement —Convicts Withdrawn within the Prison Walls.

The authorities of the penitentiary in Jeffersonville have been working the convicts outside the prison walls, hireing them to whoever would employ them for any purpose, at prices much less than those paid common laborers, thus bringing them in competition with the mechanics and working men of the city. The citizens have objected to this, not only because of the competition, but because of the demoralizing influence thus exerted, and because it was calculated to make labor degrading. In a few years past, fifteen or sixteen public meetings have been held to protest against this practice, and to secure a change. The last one for this purpose was held some weeks ago; and the Prison Superintendent was informed that if no change was made by the first of this month, they would take matters in their own hands.

No change having been made, a meeting was held on Monday night, at which it was resolved, should the prisoners be sent out of the prison wall to work again, they would compel them to be taken back. Yesterday morning, they were sent out to work as usual. The fire bells were rung, and a large number of the citizens immediately assembled, and proceeded in the direction of the place where the convicts were employed. The authorities of the prison at once withdrew the prisoners within the walls; and for the present, the people have triumphed. We have heard of no understanding being had between the belligerent parties; and the difficulty may be reopened. The citizens are determined to put an end to the evil of which they have complained.

THEATER.—The heavy rain of last night seriously affected the house on the second appearance of Mr. and Miss Richings. Still the attendance was fair, and no doubt, if the weather had been favorable, there would have been an audience somewhat commensurate with the extraordinary merit of the present "stars regnant." The beautiful little play of the "Prima Donna" went off very happily. Mr. Richings displayed a great deal of comic talent and a quiet humor that was irresistibly amusing. Of Miss Richings it is difficult to decide whether she is more attractive as an actress or a vocalist. The beautiful little part of the Prima Donna was enacted by her gracefully, charmingly, and most effectively. The music, with which the piece abounds, was most rapturously received by the audience, especially the ballad of Softly, ye Light winds, La Sicilliene, and the beautiful variations from the Crown Diamonds at the finale of the piece. The Marseillaise, sung between the pieces, was most vociferously encored.

To-night the Mahteer of Toledo, a piece never before performed here, will be enacted, together with a charming little farce called Peggy Green, both pieces interspersed with songs. We believe that Louisville has a reputation as a city where musical taste is cultivated to an extent surpassing that of any other west of the mountains. If this reputation is well founded, we shall be surprised if Miss Richings, one of the most charming coutatrices on the stage, does not succeed in drawing full houses during her short engagement here, more especially when to this rare accomplishment is added that of dramatic talent of the very highest order.

HEAVY RAIN AND HAIL STORM.—Last evening, about 6 o'clock, the long threatened and wished for rain came in earnest, and for a brief space it poured down in torrents. The weather had become intolerably and unseasonably warm, and the signs of the impending storm were apparent to the most casual observer. The fair ladies, and all pedestrians who thronged the streets, were seen hastening home with the utmost rapidity, often turning their gaze with wonder and amaze at the dark, threatening sky and the huge black clouds gathering over their heads from the four quarters of the compass, while the wind was as variable as the clouds.

Amid the conflicting elements the overcharged atmosphere found vent in one or two vivid flashes of lightning, followed by a terrific thunder clap, and then the rain came down thick and fast, almost deluging the streets, allaying at once the heat and dust. The rain, for a few moments, was accompanied with pahable, heavy, continued hail, almost a regular hail storm, which very materially cooled the atmosphere, and made the weather seasonable.
