MRS. BROWN WANTS THAT SOMEONE MAY BRING THE BIGGEST SNOWS

by Siller Brown

We are now in the first week of May. It has been a long month to plant seeds if we are to eat well through the year. The oaks are in the muddy stage, a good time to plant corn. Rain is falling and I see that most of the bloom is in full bloom. It is cold and chilly, I sure hope it warms up because the buds that wet spell we sometimes have for the first part of May, Mother Nature is working some busy planting during the past week. The hills are beginning to look as though they are covered with snow. There are so many colors again.

There are plenty of wild green now for anyone who wants to pick a mess. Most people want a mess of pole saucer for a spring tonic.

Sallie took into a trip with Mrs. Carl Hall and Mrs. Robert Price to Winston-Salem, N.C. She visited with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bon and daughter Jennifer. Mrs. Bon attended Mr. Lore Fields, who was also visiting them. She said she bought a beautiful home. She visited the R.J. Reynolds Children's Hospital and said it was very exciting. She also visited the thousand-acre farm and home connection. Mr. Reynolds died in 1918, and Mrs. Reynolds died in 1924. Most of the furniture is still in the house.

Mrs. Carl Hall and Mrs. Robert Price attended the furniture auction at the Whitco in Winston-Salem. N.C. All they enjoyed their trip very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Long and granddaughter Melinda and daughter from Knoxville, Tenn., and Carrie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion long over the weekend.

Mr. Jeff Whitaker celebrated his 85th birthday on May 1st at his home on the Whitco road with children and grandchildren, the Astor Whittakers and daughter Betty from Grandview, and all the nieces and nephews, including the Astor children.

Mr. and Mrs. Bella Whitaker attended the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Nancy Ellen Day, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Astor of Ed.XtraBars on the Woodston road.

Two nieces and nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scot's parents, and I am shorthand of the Indianas; the Ed Whitakers and Benton Whittakers from Tennessee, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Whitaker and children from Whitco, were also there. They are several grandchildren Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scot and other nieces and nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scot.

Other relatives and friends were Mrs. Nova Whitaker, Mrs. Andy Collins, and Mr. and Mrs. R.J. and Mr. and Mrs. Betty Collins, and all the nieces and nephews.

There was a wonderful dinner prepared and served by the family and friends.

Jeff has been in failing health for some time now and has been staying at the rest home in Lackle for some time now. He was so good for him to be home with the family before his birth. He has been greatly blessed to live all those many years. We will all miss him and the good years in the future.

Mrs. Carl Hall had visitors over the weekend from granddaughter-in-law Mrs. Carole Hall and her mother Mrs. Robert Scot. She said they had planned and they look forward to more visits during the week.

The Frankie Hall family is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rogers in Big Cowan over the weekend.

Mrs. Carl Hall, Mrs. Ethel Moore, and Mothi Enright were out picking cherries.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Banks and son and Curtis Cardwell attended the funeral of Ioody Hall, the mother of LOOKING FOR HELP—Leitcher County Rep. Raymond Collins (left) and State Parks Commission Executive Director James Palmer-Bell conference in Frankfurt regarding development of tourist facilities in the Cumberland Mountains. (Photo by Frankfort Explorer for assistance in developing the Lincfield courts and other attractions along Pine Mountain.

Roxana:

MRS. FIELDS REMINDS EVERYONE THAT SUNDAY IS MOTHER'S DAY

by Jannell Fields

Peg. Maurice Reharshe and his wife Saturna attended Texas for a 14th day trip to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reharshe. While there they went to Big Creek, and visited her and Mrs. Frank Fields. While they were in Texas they have been to Big Creek and will be back in Big Creek after having it very much announced. She is doing fine, thanks to her good doctors and nurses.

HELP WANTED:

Director and Staff for new S.E. Ky.

Health Program

Qualified personnel needed to direct the administration of the recently funded four-country program which will serve 4,000 low-income residents of Southeastern Kentucky. Health services will be provided through existing hospitals, clinics, etc. Duties will include the overall direction of the project, supervision of state contractors, evaluation services provided, and ensuring that quality health services are made available. Applications will be accepted until May 14, 1977.

Program Director—$10,000 to $13,000

Administrative Director—$11,000 to $13,000

Executive Director—$12,000 to $14,000

Further information on salary and benefits is being made available. For more information, contact Department of Public Health, 760-5363.

MRS. BLACKEY:

MRS. NULLIS SAYS,

Hungry people get promises

by Charles Anne Bullis

The news from Blackey this week and in weeks to come will probably be small. I am going to visit and go places as much as I can this summer. I went to Croley and visited in Columbus, Ind., with our son Charley and the Sandy for a few days.

We brought our granddaughter Sandy back with us and are enjoying her very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blackey had their grandson Chris on a visit last week from Lexington.

While we were gone we visited the town of London with Joe and Jack and Floy. Monday we drove to London and home. We visited the Blackey home for the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.T. Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Jim May, Mr. May has been very sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith have moved to Leitchfield, Ky. Mr. Bill Caudill is very ill. He underwent surgery on May 12th in Indianapolis, Ind.

Alma Salam has moved to Hazard to live near her son, Martha Moore, Bunny Wright and Carol Hanman from Lexington visited with Callie Sexton last weekend.

Uncle Clev Caudill is very ill in the Whitesburg hospital. Our friend Phil Prumack has been off visiting in Washington for a few days and is back for his brother's wedding.

Mr. Less Line, the Editor of the Audubon Magazine, visited in Blackey to get information in order to do an article on the Lillies Woods. Aunt Mag Brown is in the hospital at Whitesburg.

Mrs. George Nichols and family all visited in Leitchfield with son Chuck over the weekend.

Little Kevin Nichols, son of Mrs. Charles Nichols, was attending his trip and broke both bones in his forearm.

(Continued on Page 20)