

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

University of Kentucky

VOL IX

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, NOV. 16, 1916.

No. 9

WILDCATS WANT TO GET AT MISSISSIPPI CREW

Southern Bunch Comes Highly Touted and With Good Record

MARSHALL GAME OFF

Mississippi A. and M. Saturday! Marshall College got caught out in the first cold spell and frigid pedal extremities resulted. Marshall wired Dr. Tigert that no game could possibly be arranged with the Wildcats this season. The gap in the schedule will probably be left.

The Wildcats have been kept off of prey for two weeks and are hungry for victims. They hope to taste of sweet revenge Saturday for the twelve-to-nothing drubbing received at the hands of Mississippi A. and M. on a hot day last year. It looks like now the weather will be as different as the score.

Plenty of rest and careful polishing has characterized the week's workouts of the Wildcats. Whether the rest will prove a help or injury is yet to be seen. Dr. Tigert has his crowd on edge and itching to go. The Mississippi game will tell whether Kentucky is in correct condition to turn all the tables upside down by beating Tennessee, which beat Vanderbilt Saturday. If the Wildcats should celebrate Thanksgiving by painting Knoxville blue and white it will give Kentucky a good claim for Southern honors.

Mississippi has a good team. They have taken the scalps of Chattanooga, which held Tennessee to a small score, and bruised Transylvania up considerably the second game of the season. Mississippi is said by some football students to have the best line in the South.

The Wildcat line-up will probably have no changes. No official line-up could be furnished today. The whole team will go in in good condition and that spells a lot. Alvin Thompson, the end, who did excellent work in the first part of the season, and who left the game to undergo an operation, will be out of the game the rest of the season.

The only thing Dr. Tigert would say before the Kernel went to press was that the Wildcats will all be ready when the whistle blows and there'll be a fight.

"COLLEGE SPIRIT" TO BE DISCUSSED AT "Y"

The Y. M. C. A. will hold a meeting next Sunday night at the Y rooms. The topic of discussion will be: "What is True College Spirit?" Student speakers who have been selected for the occasion are J. Franklin Corn, Charles Gordon and Bart Peak. Three points will be emphasized in the speaking, college spirit on the campus, in the class-room and in students' activities.

CLEANLINESS NEXT TO GODLINESS AT HALL

Y. W. C. A. Rooms Located In Basement Close To the Laundry

FURNISHINGS NIFTY

Making the best of a bad bargain is what the Patterson Hall girls have been doing since the only room in the building available for meetings was made into sleeping quarters this fall.

The lack of a place for the Y. W. C. A. to hold its meetings has presented a serious problem, since the weather has prevented services being conducted on the porch. At last, however, the difficulty has been solved. The laundry in the basement which has previously occupied two rooms, has been moved into one, and the girls have converted the other into an association room. Curtains at the windows, a flower box hiding an unsightly corner and dashing yellow shades over the lights have worked miracles with the old laundry.

The Young Woman's Christian Association has planned the room for a community center, to make up to the girls in some measure the loss of their old Recreation Hall.

MCINTEER IS WINNER OF BANANA CONTEST

The Agricultural Society held a joint meeting with the Home Economics girls last Monday night in the Y. M. C. A. Building. Professor J. T. C. Noe made the address of the evening, on "What Education Should Mean to us and How we Should Spend Our Leisure Hours While in College," and three solos were sung by Miss Effie Land.

The boys met at the Y. M. C. A. and went in a body to Patt Hall, where they drew lots to see which young lady would honor each with her company to the meeting. About forty girls were present.

After the program, a banana-eating contest was pulled off and the prize of one dollar was won by B. B. McInteer, after it was shown that several of the contestants had put their bananas in their pockets instead of the place intended for them by nature. Refreshments, consisting of agricultural products, grapes, apples and bananas, were then passed around and for a time very little conversation was indulged in.

CHINESE Y. MAN HERE

Mr. Wm. R. Stewart, a Y. M. C. A. missionary at Nanking, China, who is home on a furlough, was a visitor at the University Y. M. C. A. this week. Mr. Stewart will shortly return to the foreign field. He has been associated with our former Y. M. C. A. secretary, E. L. Hall, in the work in China.

THE Y. M. C. A.'s AIM.

To win men to Christian life and develop them in it.

To co-operate with the church.

To promote a program of unselfish service.

To provide as far as possible, thru employment bureaus, work for needy students.

To provide wholesome social life.

To unite the students in promoting the interests of the University and the individuals who compose it.

To unite the students of the University of Kentucky with the worldwide Christian brotherhood.

Y. M. C. A. WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN NEXT WEEK

Every Student To Be Asked To Become a Real Live Member

HAS DONE GOOD WORK

"The hunger for brotherhood is at the bottom of the unrest of the modern civilized world." That is the feeling in every Y. boy's heart, and Mr. Johnson has a feeling near akin to it in starting the great campaign for Y. M. C. A. membership that will be waged next week. With a zip, a boom and a rah the membership campaign will be started Monday and not a boy will be missed; all will be given a pressing invitation to join in the Y. movement and no sheep will intentionally be left out of the fold.

But this is a campaign for new members not in name but in spirit. Deep down in the heart take stock of yourself and see if you are going in it for the name; if you are, you should not go in. The fight of the Y. M. C. A. is a fight to establish in the college boy's heart the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Charles Rann Kennedy says: "There's a lot o' brother knockin' abaht as people don't know on." His statement is true. When you look at it—this business of brotherhood—you find there are many fellows that you would really like to "buddy up to," while on the other hand you can find fellows to whom it would mean more to be a comrade to than all of the ready cash most of us could spare.

Did the thought ever touch you that we are all descendants of Adam, all brothers and the earth is one great home? Well, it is a fact. Every boy in college has a room in that home to himself, some of those rooms are so lonesome they are ante-chambers next door to Hell. Do you ever meander and rap on your brother's door, invite him to talk with you, smoke the pipe of comradeship and partake of your good cheer? Do it and you will find

(Continued on Page Five)

KITTENS WIN FROM GEORGETOWN'S CUBS

Howard and Peak Carry the Ball Over—Score Is 13 to 0

STRUGGLE THRILLING

A deafening collection of "Meows" was heard from the "Kittens" last Friday when Assistant Coach Tuttle took them from the source of their infantile pleasures and put them on the gridiron at Georgetown in front of the Tiger Cubs. As the Wildcats fight in their lair so did the "Kittens" fight on the muddy straw-strewn haunt of the Cubs, and the end of the game found the score 13 to 0 in the Kittens' favor.

In the first half Jack Howard carried the ball over for a score and "Red" Adair kicked goal. In the last half when some one blundered the signals Bart Peak ran for thirty yards and went over for another. At this sensational play of Bart's the crowd went wild. Two thousand Georgetown rooters cried out their pain, fair young co-eds tore their hair and shed big Texas tears of sympathy for Georgetown, but to no avail, as the game soon closed and the Cubs were unable to score. After the game a rush was made to get better views of the Wildcats' offspring. Many compliments were dispensed. People were shoved to exhaustion by those who wished to get a full view of the Kittens. The game was a grand success as evidenced by the Georgetown Bumble Bee's extra, which was on the street in a few minutes after the game, telling of the splendid work of the Kittens and giving the constructive opinions of the Eastern scouts who were present. The line-up follows:

Kittens.	Position.	Cubs.
Mosley	Left End.	Jennings
Lisanby	Left Tackle.	Jones
Lancaster	Left Guard.	Arnold
Kelley	Center.	Anderson (Capt.)
Sloan	Right Guard.	Minor
Beles	Right Tackle.	Barlow
Shinnick	Right End.	Johnson
Peak	Quarterback.	Ogden
Howard	Left Half.	Henderson
Paugh	Fullback.	Atkinson
Adair (Capt.)	Right Half.	Lane

Many substitutes were used by both teams during the last half.

The Pre-medical Society will hold its monthly meeting in the Natural Science Building at 7:30 Monday night.

S. R. O. CROWD PRESENT FOR AMATEUR NIGHT

Miss Margaret Wilkinson and Frank Shinnick Take Prize

BARNHILL ALSO WINS

(By "Sap.")

Students of the University of Kentucky and Sayre College and many townspeople filled the University chapel to overflowing last Friday night for the annual "Amateur Night" given under the auspices of the Strollers, the University dramatic club.

Thruout the entire program the audience was impressed with the originality displayed by the contestants for the Stroller prizes in the best amateur performance of its kind ever given in Lexington, according to critics who were present. The happy and the sad, the pathetic and the ridiculous; the classic and the burlesque all found places in the entertainment furnished by the young actors. Nor was the art of music without representation, for on the bill appeared Harney's "Meat House Quartet," of Patt Hall and Cincinnati fame.

Roy Barnhill won the individual prize. The act presented by Miss Margaret Wilkinson and Frank Shinnick was unanimously awarded the prize for the doubles. The judges were Professor Enoch Grehan, Professor E. F. Farquhar and "Uncle Jimmy" Lyons. Mr. Barnhill showed marked dramatic talent in his act, "Out Bottoming Bottom," an arrangement of the Pyramus and Thisbe interlude from "Midsummer Night's Dream." Mr. Barnhill impressed the audience with his ability and cleverness in taking successively the many different parts in this Shakespearean selection. The act staged by Miss Wilkinson and Mr. Shinnick was unique in that Miss Wilkinson is the author of this play, in which she played the title role, "An American Princess." She won the admiration of critics both as an author and as an actress. Mr. Shinnick, in the role of a metropolitan newspaper reporter, showed good dramatic form.

F. O. Mayes made quite a hit in his original monologue, "Hamlet at the University of Kentucky." "To bone or not to bone," the pseudo Hamlet declared, was the paramount issue. J. W. Lindsay commanded the sympathies of his hearers in his act representing a foreigner at the University. Mr. Lindsay showed rare ability in character representation.

The most decided hit of the evening from a humorous standpoint, was the farce, "Dot's Dilemma, or One at a Time and They'll Last Longer," presented by the "Bill" family of Patt. Hall. This original play was highly enjoyable. Miss Josephine Thomas as "Dot" and Miss Eyri Richmond as a "Cuckoo" student, did excellent work in this production, as did Misses Clem and Ricketts.