

..SAVING..

Few people save much unless they have a definite plan. Spasmodic saving seldom results in large accumulations.

Some people save all their coins of a certain denomination; others all coins of a certain date; others save by cutting off certain luxuries; others by a system of fines for breaches of certain rules.

But there is still a better plan: Set aside a definite sum as a debt to your future and deposit it regularly in this bank. Let us help you to prepare for the inevitable Rainy Day.

DISCUSSION ON CUSTOMS AS RELATED BY TWO MEN

BY MISS FREDA SCHNEIDER, of Buechel.

"My wife's a beauty chaser," remarked the man who always catches the five-fifteen train for South Orange on the way across the ferry.

"So's mine. They all are. The end justifies the means," the other man replied. "I used to go with a girl in New Jersey once. She had the greatest hair you ever saw. You never knew what color it was going to be the next time you saw her. I met her one morning and we made an appointment for the theatre that evening. She was a brunette then. When she opened the door for me at seven-thirty she had the brightest case of golden locks you ever saw."

"That's all right. That's only a commendable yearning for the beautiful. We fixed the cook last night. Very decent girl, Swedish and her name Selma. My wife liked her pie crust. Had company for dinner, and Selma spread herself on the pie crust. "Exquisite crust your maid makes," one guest said. "Is it the custom in Sweden to perfume the pie crust?" My wife assured that it was the custom. The crust held the most delicate, elusive whiff of orris-root you ever smelled. After the guests had departed, we got at the bottom of the matter. So had Selma. She had hunted for lard, and landed a fresh mess of violet perfumed cold cream that my wife had been making from a sure-thing recipe out of an advertisement column. And Selma went.

"We've got a little topsy child as nurse for our youngest member. Geneva—that's my eldest girl—has freckles. She's about fifteen and they bother her. Well, they found our pickaninny smeared with Freckle-alma till she looked like a white-washed chocolate drop. "Deed, if dat stuff gwine take off Mis' Geneva's freckles," she told them. "I guesst it gwine disturb my complexion a bit, caze I'm the perzack shade of a freckle." The South Orange sojourner nodded his head sympathetically.

It doesn't matter what shade they are, they're all plum daffy over beauty culture. A burglar who got caught through the medium of a facial mask out in Michigan stumbled at the mystic shrine during a second story cruise around Kalamazoo. He entered the upper chamber safely and started toward the bed with stealthy footfall, suddenly, as he slid the lantern rays on the sleeper he stopped dead short, paralyzed momentarily with amazed terror. Sitting up in bed, holding the sheets about her, was a female form, but the face The nose was strapped in a brace the eyes looked out of vigor clothes a chin strap encircled the jaws, the mouth was held tightly closed with strips of plaster, and the rubber heeled gentleman burglar fled. When they caught him at the corner, he swore he had faced a demon in the dark, yet the lady in the mask was only trying to beguile nature along the path of beauty.

"What's the matter Willie?" asked one summer girl of six years to her nearest neighbor in the sand pile at Asbury Park. "Are you hungry?" "Yes I am," responded Willie sadly and bitterly. "We're dieting, mother eats nothing excepting two dozen oranges a day, and she puts strawberry plasters on my face every night to take off the tan. I want tan, so I eat the plasters every night. My mother puts awfully nice stuff on her face, only she dassent smile or it all cracks," said the little girl.

"Catch me ever saving any woman's life again," said the Southern informant. "There was some kind of accident near Brooklyn Bridge. Nothing special, but the lights went out and the train came to a stop. A woman sitting opposite me fainted dead away when the jolt came, and somebody let out ascre am. Well, I reached down and piled her back on her seat and when we moved to the platform I lifted her off the train and set her on her feet, then instead of being grateful, she feels of her head and shrieks out, villain, you have robbed me! Madam, be calm! I have not," I protested. Help help! she calls out. Madam, the danger is over and I have saved your life. Saved me? she moans, you brute! I'm not thinking of the danger—my p-p-p-uffs are gone."

It is the same all over the world. The ladies of Arabia stain their fingers and toes red and their lips blue. In Persia they paint a black streak around their eyes and ornament their faces with representations of various figures. The Japanese women adopt the singular method of gilding their teeth, and those of the Indians paint them red. In some parts of India the pearl of the tooth must be dyed black before a woman can be beautiful. The Hottentot women paint the entire body in compartments of red and black. In Greenland, women color their faces blue and yellow, and frequently tattoo their bodies by saturating threads in soot inserting them beneath the skin and then drawing them through. The modern Persians have a strong aversion to red hair. The Turks on the contrary are warm admirers of it. In China, small round eyes are liked, but the great beauty of Chinese are their feet. An African beauty must have small eyes, thick lips and a large flat nose.

This world we're living in is mighty hard to beat; You get a thorn with every rose, But ain't the roses sweet?

Almost Lost His Life.

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THE WORLD IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, February 12.—Unusual preparations are being made for the presentation of the Pageant of Darkness and Light in connection with "The World in Cincinnati," the great Missionary Exposition to be held in Music Hall building from March 9 to April 6. A call has gone out to the churches of Cincinnati and vicinity for 5000 singers and other participants who are to be engaged in the Pageant, serving in relays. The costumes used at the presentation of the Pageant at "The Orient in London" in 1908, and at "The World in Boston" last year, are to be used in Cincinnati.

The Pageant of Darkness and Light is a great musical drama, a spectacular representation of triumphal events in the history of missions. There are five episodes or scenes, in each of which about 200 persons participate. The first episode, known as the Episode of the North, represents a camp of American Indians in the far Northwest. The little daughter of the chief has been lost on the march. The medicine man suggests that a band of trading Eskimos be killed to appease the spirits, but just as the Indians are about to do this, a missionary enters, bringing the little daughter of the chief whom he has found in the forest.

In the South Episode, which is Africa, David Livingstone, the missionary and explorer, ministers to a wounded Arab slave-raider. Shortly after, Stanley enters, at last finding Livingstone. He begs the missionary to return to England, but Livingstone refuses, saying his work is not done.

India is the scene of the East Episode. A child is taken from the missionaries in order that she may be formally married to the man selected as her husband in her babyhood. In the second scene, the wife, now a woman, is led to the funeral pyre of her husband. As the pyre is about to be lighted, with the living widow upon it, an official of the English Government arrives with a proclamation doing away with the suttee, as this rite was called.

In the Episode of the West, Kapiolani, the Christian Queen of Hawaii, defies Pele, the goddess of the Lake of Fire in the crater of the volcano Kilauea. The volcano is in eruption. The priest of Pele claims victims to appease the wrath of the goddess. He chooses a young bridegroom and a child, and is leading them to the crater to be thrown into the Lake of Fire. Queen Kapiolani comes quickly and defies the priest. She ascends to the crater, and after the fashion of Elijah on Mount Carmel, taunts and defies the goddess and breaks the power of Pele forever.

The final episode is a great processional. Those who have participated in the four previous episodes march from the corners of the Pageant hall to the platform and arrange themselves in tableaux around a cross, singing the closing chorus.

The Pageant is to be given in the auditorium of Music Hall every afternoon and every evening during the four weeks of the Exposition. The Pageant was presented in London and Boston to thousands of people every day. It was regarded as one of the greatest religious spectacles of the century. There was evidence that a deep spiritual impression was made upon the people who attended.

Shocking Sounds.

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50c at all druggists.

"Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There are many remedies to be had for constipation, but the difficulty is to procure one that acts without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force what should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets.

After using them, Mr. N. A. Waddell, 315 Washington St., Waco, Tex., says:

"Almost all my life I have been troubled with constipation, and have tried many remedies, all of which seemed to cause pain without giving much relief. I finally tried Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and found them excellent. Their action is pleasant and mild, and their chocolate taste makes them easy to take. I am more than glad to recommend them."

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean," is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money.

A PROPERTY OWNER should select his fire insurance company as carefully as he selects his bank.

It frequently happens that the savings of a man for almost a lifetime are consumed in a few minutes by the destruction of his property by fire.

Perhaps he has an insurance policy, but it then is too late to inquire into the standing of the company in which he is insured. Forethought pays.

The Fidelity-Phenix, with its great financial strength and reputation for promptness and liberality in the treatment of its patrons, furnishes indemnity of the highest classes.

A policy in the Fidelity-Phenix commonly costs no more than a policy in any other company. The property owner should get the best for his money.
