Democrat News

By MISS ANNA TOLLIVER

The Sunday School attendance is exceptionally good for this time of the year. There were sixty-four in attendance Sunday. We are very glad for the new members who are coming out every Sunday possible.

Mrs. Lizzie Cook just finished a beautiful quilt, for Mrs. Jue Montgomery. It took her quite a while to make it, since it was the largest one she has ever quilted. She usually can quilt a number of them during a winter, however, this is her first this season.

Mr. John A. Profit, farmer and World War veteran, moved from Louis Branch to Haymond, Ky.

The people of Democrat are looking forward to a farm meeting soon. The farm Agent and Mr. Moxley will be the speakers.

Miss Mildred Furbush is spending the week in Hazard. She is having some dental work done while there.

Little Lois Williams has returned from Louisville. Her eye is in perfect condition after having undergone an operation. She is well pleased to get started into school again, and will wear glasses for six months now.

Uncle Riley Bentley has been sick for some time. He is not dangerously ill, but is near eighty-five years of age, and ordinarily does his own plowing, and other farm work.

Mr. U. S. Tolliver was welcomed back to Sunday School again last Sunday, the first time in weeks, due to an attack of flu.

Mr. Hugh Stidham, about sixty-five years of age, is confined with flu now, but at this writing is not seriously ill.

Graham Memorial Presbyterian Church

JOE T. SUDDUTH, Pastor

The public is cordially invited to study God's word and worship God at this church on Sunday. The following services are arranged for this purpose:

The Church School, at 9:45 The Morning Worship at 11:00.

The Vesper Meeting for the Young People at 7:00 p.m. In the Name of Christ, we urge you to attend one, or all of these services.

J. M. Feltner Visits 4-H Club Council

J. M. Feltner, agricultural and 4-H Club field worker was a visitor in Whitesburg Jan. 7 and presided at a meeting of the 4-H Club Council. He is a great leader and a master in his chosen field, having been employed by the state for the past twenty-four years. Mr. Feltner is formerly of Clay County and the writer knew him there more than 20 years ago when he was only a beginner in the work he has steadily pursued. During that time his work and influence has been felt far and wide and at present he is probably the best known agricultural worker in the State.

His advice and suggestions should be of material benefit to the 4-H Club workers and leaders who are interested in the promotion of farming and better living conditions. We regret that it was not possible for every school boy and girl to attend such a meeting and hear the fine things which were discussed and planned at the County Agent's office on Tuesday.

Mr. Hugh Hurst, our County Agent is a live-wire and enthusiastic worker and we believe he will be a great asset to the farmers and citizens of Letcher County.

Jenkins Social Notes

Executive Board Meets

The Executive Board of the Jenkins Woman's Club met at the club house Friday evening January 10th. Some fine plans were discussed relative to of the club year more interesting the closing programs. Among which was a birthday party with the clubs president, Mrs. J. J. Johnson as honor guest. Also a chain bridge was planned. Each of the members of the Executive Board to have a table of bridge and the following week each member of those tables to have one. Much interest has been created already, and the plan promises to become a most popular one.

Bridge Club Entertained

Mrs. T. M. Perry entertained the members of her bridge club at her home Thursday afternoon, January 2nd. Two tables were in play and high score prize was won by a guest of the club, Mrs. Jake Smith. Delicious strawberry shortcake and coffee was served.

Dinner Given

For Mr. Worth Kinzer On Friday evening, January 10th at eight o'clock at the Jenkins club house, a three course turkey dinner was served, honoring Mr. Worth Kinzer, who has been called into training, and who leaves Wednesday morning, January 15 for Fort Thomas. Forty-eight guests enjoyed this sumptuous repast with Miss Irma Shuffelbarger as toast mistress.

The tables were beautifully decorated with red, white and blue candles, while the lovely centerpiece of red and white flowers made a pretty picture indeed. Place cards and favors carried out the same color scheme. Everyone voted the ice cream was too pretty to eat, being squares with the American flag blocked in the center. After dinner, dancing was the order of the evening. Delicious punch was served.

Mrs. Frank Price Entertains

Mrs. Frank Price entertained the "Hesitation Club" at her home Thursday afternoon, January 9th. Bridge was played, Mrs. T. M. Perry winning the high score prize. Delightful refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Howard Burpo, Mrs. T. M. Perry, Mrs. J. E. Stanfill, Mrs. J. H. Hunter, Mrs. Carl Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Margaret Stump, Mrs. J. Stanifer and the hostess.

Bridge Party Given

On Tuesday evening, January 7th Mrs. L. E. Kelly was hostess to four tables of bridge at her home on Lakeside. The prize for high score was given to Mrs. Frank Merrill, second high to Mrs. Carl Fitzpatrick. Traveling prize, Mrs. Clara Shaw; consolation prize to Mrs. J. D. Snyder, Sr. Fruit salad, hot rolls and coffee were served. Those enjoying this occasion were: Mrs. Robert Craft, Mrs. Carl Fitzpatrick, Mrs. J. H. Hunter, Mrs. Joe Halcomb, Mrs. Dick Sikes, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. James Witt, Mrs. S. J. Chewning, Mrs. Elbert Cundiff, Mrs. Frank Merrill, Mrs. Bruce Adkinson, Mrs. J. D. Snyder, Sr., Mrs. J. D. Snyder, Jr., Miss Margaret Ashworth, Miss Gertrude O'Connell, and Miss Clara Shaw Younger Set Hold Dance

After-Holiday Dance

An after-holiday dance was held at the Masonic Hall, on Saturday night, January 11th. This was one time our teenage boys and girls really did enjoy themselves. Mr. Luther Bowling's electromouse furnished the music, and the floor was comfortably filled with couples. Chaperons included: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Adams, Mrs. Gene Auxier, Mrs. Paul Ashcraft, Mrs. S. J. Chewning, Mrs. Smedley and her sister,

Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Glen Paul

Benefit Bridge Tournament

The eight weeks Bridge Tournament, sponsored by the Woman's Club, with Mrs. John Stauffer as chairman, seems to be creating much interest among the bridge players. A small prize score goes to the partners holding high score at the end of each week, then a grand prize will go to high score in the finals. The first week Mrs. Frank Merrill and Mrs. John Stauffer held high score; 2nd week, Mrs. Howard Burpo and Mrs. Margaret Stump; 3rd week, Mrs. Howard Burpo and Miss Anne Smith. There are five weeks left. It is not too late to enter. Twenty-five cents is the fee. The club will appreciate your presence, and you will have an enjoyable evening.

Red Cross News

Mrs. Carl Fitzpatrick, the chairman of our local unit, has announced the arrival of our quota of materials to be made up for refugees. She and her helpers are busy measuring, cutting, and assigning this material. Miss Elizabeth Rudd the Home Economics teacher and her girls have accepted as their share of this work the making of 50 layouts.

Royal Arch Masons Confer Degrees

Jenkins Royal Arch Chapter No. 164 met in the Masonic Hall, on Friday evening, January 10 for the purpose of perpetrating all the Royal Arch Degrees on three worthy brothers. E. C. Miles, Rex Jones and George Morgan, hailing from our sister cities of Haymond and Fleming.

Work started promptly at 6:30 p.m. and for the next two hours, I am told, the High Priest of the Order, Chas. P. Turner and his able cohorts royally entertained these three candidates. Time was called out, and all forthwith repaired to "mikes", that eating place de luxe, where the fears of the three were lulled to sleep by a sumptuous repast of French fried potatoes, sugared country ham, hot rolls and butter, Salad, delicious coffee and apple pie. After such a feast the "boys" felt equal to any occasion and returned to the degree work with vim, vigor and all it takes. At a late hour the work was finished and all went home, no doubt better and wiser men for having been there.

This is a live-wire chapter with plenty of work and all Royal Arch Masons are invited to attend.

Mrs. O. O. Parks was called to the bedside of her brother, N. B. Richmond of Ewing, Va. Mr. Richmond had been a very sick patient in the hospital at Middlesboro, Ky., for some time. He was removed to his home recently, where he passed away about midnight, Monday, January 6th.

Miss Myrtle Kesheimer, of Hazard, Ky., has discontinued her music class here, due to the long drive in the cold during the winter months. She will perhaps resume her teaching when the warmer weather comes. Miss Kesheimer is a splendid teacher and both pupils and parents regret her action very much.

Dr. Kelsall of the Jenkins Medical Department left Saturday morning for Louisville, to spend the week-end with Mrs. Kelsall, who is visiting there.

The Jenkins schools opened Monday, after having been kept closed for one week following the holidays, on account of so much sickness and influenza. Pupils and teachers alike were glad to get back after the three-week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Snapp were called to Carlisle several days ago on account of the serious illness of Mr. Snapp's mother, who is suffering from double pneumonia. She is reported some better at this time and Mr. and Mrs. Snapp have returned home.

Woman's Club Bridge Party

The regular bi-monthly benefit bridge met at the woman's club Friday evening, January 3rd.

A series of bridges was started, to continue eight weeks, a prize being given each evening and a grand prize to be awarded in the finals.

Lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Damon Duncan and Mrs. A. F. Breeze.

Tacky Party Given

Charlotte Shepherd entertained a number of her friends Monday evening, December 30th, at her home on Lakeside. All guests came dressed their tackiest, and each in turn afforded much merriment. After all were duly inspected, the judges voted Peggy Adams to be the prize winner. Games were enjoyed and lovely refreshments served.

Masons Install Officers

Jenkins Lodge No. 856, F. and A.M. met Monday night, January 6th in the Masonic Hall, for the purpose of installing officers for the year 1941.

The following officers were installed:

Palmer Hughes, W.M.; Chas. Turner, S.W.; W. Holtzclaw, J.W.; A. W. Boggs, Treas.; T. D. Vaughan, Sec'y.; J. M. Mullins, S.D.; Paul Shockey, J.D.; Robt' Wassum, S.S.; J. C. Stambough, J.S.; Henry Brummett, Tyler

C. B. Adams, Junior Past master, was installing officer and W. H. Sergent, Past Master, installing Marshall.

Entertains At Lunch

Mrs. Marshall Prunty and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson entertained at lunch Friday, honoring Mrs. Herron, mother of Mrs. J. D. Snyder, Jr., who spent the holidays visiting her daughter.

Those present were: Mrs. Herron, Mrs. J. D. Snyder, Jr., Mrs. J. D. Snyder, Sr., Mrs. Margaret Stump and the hostesses

NATURE

By G. B. PENNEBAKER, Ph.D.

Morehead State Teacher's College

The last several articles have dealt with migration of birds in their preparation for winter. The birds depend upon migration more than do any other class of animals but they are by no means the only ones which migrate. Many fishes migrate, not so much in preparation for winter as for breeding purposes. This subject will be dealt with at another time. We turn our attention now to the migration of mammals.

The most migratory of the mammals are the bats. They more nearly approach the birds in their habits and habits than do any of the other mammals. Their fore-limbs have become those of the birds; they differ however in that the broad expanse of the wing of the bat is formed by a thin skin-like membrano while that of the bird is due to large, strong feathers. The wings of the bat are the organs which have enabled it to develop its strong migratory tendencies.

According to their habits bats are divided into two different types, the tree bats and the cave bats. Both types live widely distributed over our country and have somewhat the same feeding habits. They differ however in their preparation for winter. The cave bats, which include our little brown bat and the big brown bat migrate to caves where they hibernate during the winter. There they find a rather low, even temperature and a constant moisture content of the air which are quite necessary for their winter rest. The tree bats however are seldom found in caves. As winter approaches they migrate southward where the food supply is more abundant, some of them migrate several hundreds of miles each season.

Stephen P. Combs, of Bardstown, suffered a dangerous heart attack last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leonard Webb, of this city. His condition is somewhat improved at this time, though still serious.

Every HOME needs a TELEPHONE

A telephone is something that every home really needs. It does so much for you and your family - it keeps you in touch with friends and relatives - brings you news and opportunities - protects your family and property in emergencies - saves time and energy - runs your errands - helps make life easier.

The cost of having the convenience and protection of a telephone in your home is so small that it doesn't pay to try to do without one.
