

NOTES OF THE FARM.

COLUMN OF INTERESTING NEWS THAT WILL BENEFIT FARMERS.

One of the best tools a farmer can have is a good riveter for mending leather straps of all kinds. One of these will save a good many trips to town and maybe more than one runaway.

Look after the pits where potatoes and the like are stored, and make sure that there is enough earth or litter on them to protect the contents from the coldest weather. Neglect may cause serious loss.

You've been working around that one solitary big rock in a field for years. Now, split it up, blast it or get rid of it in some way. A day's work, or perhaps less, makes the field perfectly clean and smooth.

A tank heater for heating drinking water for live stock will pay for itself, time and again, in one winter, in the saving of extra feed required to restore the animal heat lost through taking in the drafts of icy water.

Bringing home unexpected guests right at dinner or supper-time is often very trying to the good wife. Politeness and hospitality are all right in their places, but you owe a duty first to your wife and daughters.

Provide a stout sled, warm clothes, and let the children slide but keep them off the roads. It is fun, and you know it, or ought to; and far more healthful for mind and body than a dime novel in the barn loft.

It takes a smart man to wait patiently for dinner when the hour comes. His wife can wait for him a month of Sundays, but if she is not right on the tick when he comes in, there will be trouble right along. Most things have two sides to them. Isn't this one of them?

Give the cats and dogs a warm, strawlined, covered box in a shed, to themselves. These bitter nights are cruel to our dumb friends; and I never could lie in my warm bed, knowing that anything was shivering with cold. Some men (?) and women can, but I can not.—From November Farm Journal.

What the World Gets

From the Farm.

When the world wants good cows, horses, sheep, hens and hogs it sends out to the farms and gets them.

When it wants good things to eat it writes a letter to the farmers and is never disappointed in getting just what it orders.

When it wants the choicest fruit, our farms have it. If fruit is not plentiful in the East, there is the great West to draw from.

When it is looking for homes for the thousands in other lands who never knew what home really is, it sends to this great country of ours.

When the world feels the need of men to do great things, it reaches out its hand to the farm, and says "You have just the ones we want. Send them to us! It is a time of sore stress; do not fail us!"

And from the farms a steady stream of men goes to answer the call. You find them in the offices, in the factories, in the stores of the great cities. They are doing much of the world's work today, and they will always be doing it; for the farm grows just that kind of men.

The world gets its best from the farm; and there is a plenty left. Let's be thankful for that! From November Farm Journal.

The Poultry Yard.

Get all the leaves you can for the scratching pens.

We need new breeds when they are better than the breeds we have.

How hens do like sweet apples! Good for them, too. Share them between the hens and the pigs.

The April-hatched pullets should now be laying. They certainly are, if they have been given the proper feed and care.

If you have any little potatoes, the hens can make good use of them. Boil them up soft, and feed a ration now and then.

Let's not begin to coddle our hens with the first whiff of frosty weather. That softens them and makes them tender for the real cold that is coming.

Corn-meal mixed with skim-milk, and fed three times a day, all the fowls will eat, is the best fattening diet I have ever tried. Feed warm in cold weather.

Some farmers allow the young stock to roost outdoors during the summer, and it is important that such birds be at once placed in their winter quarters.

Do not allow inferior cabbage, potatoes and beets to freeze; store them for the hens. The time is near when they will need such feeds as add succulence to the ration.

Meat scraps put up especially for the hens may be had in almost any market, and it is a very necessary egg-producing feed at this time. Crushed oyster-shells are needed, also.

Hens will do well on almost any kind of feed if they have enough of it; but they certainly can not make eggs unless they are supplied with certain necessary elements for egg-making.

Nothing ever happens without a cause. One of the things that will surely cause sickness among chickens is crowding 150 fowls into a house large enough for only fifty or at most seventy-five.

There should now be an extra allowance of corn given at night. Corn furnishes heat to the body, as it is slow to digest. For comfort during winter the crop should remain practically filled during the entire night.

An essential to the hen's comfort in cold weather is a floor where no drafts are felt. While you are repairing the chicken house, bank it up well on the outside, and if the floor is of earth, make sure to have it higher inside than the ground without.—From Farm Journal.

Lame-back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all dealers.

TERRYVILLE.

The wedding bells have been ringing again in this vicinity. The happy people are Samuel Cantrill and Vessie Skaggs, also Herbert Skaggs and Polly Fyffe. Mr. Cantrill has recently returned from the west, where he was gone five years. He served three years in the U. S. army and spent the remainder of his time principally in Arizona. He is a fine young man, sober and industrious. Miss Skaggs is the charming daughter of Mrs. Sarah Skaggs, who married Brook Cantrill, the father of the groom. Herbert Skaggs is the son of James Skaggs, prosperous farmer and merchant. Miss Fyffe is the daughter of Rev. James Fyffe, prosperous farmer of Keaton. We wish the newly married people all they wish for.

Our telephone line is drawing nearer to Terryville every day, the work being conducted by G. V. Burton and others.

The snow put people to getting coal and wood and gathering corn.

Our schools are progressing nicely. They are planning for a big reception Thanksgiving.

E. H. and J. F. Skaggs went to Louisa last week.

Ell Wells has been painting Mrs. Laura Skaggs' house.

Virgil Skaggs attends school on Keaton this year. X-Ray.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, cold, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by A. M. Hughes.

IN MEMORY.

Death has again visited the home of Julius Diamond, and took from him his darling wife, Anna. She leaves two children and a husband and two sisters, three brothers, father and mother to mourn the loss of Anna. Weep not, dear children, for poor Anna for she is in a better world, where sorrow nor pain will never enter. The world seems empty and cheerless to them, and in their hearts there is a dreary dismal aching void the only consolation that is vouchsafed them is the sweet realization of the fact that their beloved one is at peace.

We will miss her, but our loss is her eternal gain. She has gone from us, but we thank God we know where to find her.

Mrs. Diamond joined the Missionary Baptist church. She died October 25, 1910, aged 31 years, 9 months and a few days. Anna was loved by all who knew her. Her name was Anna Pickrell. Her sickness was very short, but she seemed to be ready to go home with Jesus.

She was taken to her old home place for burial. MEAR.

A CARD OF THANKS.

From the fullness of our hearts we take this means of offering our sincere thanks to the ones who so kindly assisted us in any way during the illness and death of our darling daughter, sister, wife and mother. We wish to assure them that their kindness will never be forgotten. — Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Pickrell and Family; Julius Diamond and Children.

In Bad Fix

"I had a mishap at the age of 41, which left me in bad fix," writes Mrs. Georgia Usher, of Conyers, Ga. "I was unconscious for three days, and after that I would have fainting spells, dizziness, nervousness, sick headache, heart palpitation and many strange feelings. "I suffered greatly with ailments due to the change of life and had 3 doctors, but they did no good, so I concluded to try Cardui. "Since taking Cardui, I am so much better and can do all my housework."

Take CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

Do not allow yourself to get into a bad fix. You might get in so bad you would find it hard to get out. Better take Cardui while there is time, while you are still in moderately good health, just to conserve your strength and keep you in tip top condition. In this way your troubles, whatever they are, will gradually grow smaller instead of larger—you will be on the up-grade instead of the down—and by and bye you will arrive at the north pole of perfect health. Get a bottle at your druggists' today.
