learning power equals earning power

Get an M.A. at the University of Louisville, where costs are going down.

How to get the most for your education money. You can save money and get a better education. By the time you graduate, you'll save over $2,000.

Educators at the University of Louisville are committed to an education that is both affordable and effective. They have designed a curriculum that allows you to earn your M.A. in the least amount of time possible, reducing your tuition costs. And with more scholarships and grants available, you can further reduce your expenses.

Earning power is tied directly to your education. The higher your degree, the greater your earning potential. By earning your M.A. at the University of Louisville, you're setting yourself up for a lifetime of financial security.

Don't miss out on this opportunity to invest in your future. Apply now to the University of Louisville and start on your path to earning power through education.

City building plans hearings

The Louisville Board of Education will begin public hearings on a comprehensive plan for the future of the school system on a regular basis. The board has been asked to prepare an annual report on the progress of the plan and to give the public an opportunity to express their opinions. The public is encouraged to attend these hearings and to offer their suggestions for the future of the school system.

Peace medal awarded to Thompson

James Thompson, a former member of the University of Chicago Board of Trustees, has been awarded a Peace Medal. The award was presented to him for his contributions to the field of peace and conflict resolution.

Thompson has spent his career working to promote understanding and cooperation between people of different cultures and backgrounds. He has been a strong advocate for the United Nations and has worked to ensure that its goals are achieved.

The Peace Medal is presented annually by the International Peace Foundation to recognize outstanding contributions to the cause of peace. Thompson is the first recipient of the award from the United States.

Eastern's Guthrie wins top honor

Bruce C. Guthrie, editor-in-chief of the Eastern High School student newspaper and a candidate for the State Senate District 5 seat, received the Top Honor award from the Louisville Times newspaper.

Guthrie was chosen for his contributions to the success of the school's student newspaper, The Blue and Black, and for his work as a student leader.

The award was presented at a ceremony held at the Louisville Times headquarters.

EASTERN'S GUTHRIE WINS TOP HONOR

Bruce C. Guthrie, editor-in-chief of the Eastern High School student newspaper and a candidate for the State Senate District 5 seat, received the Top Honor award from the Louisville Times newspaper.

Guthrie was chosen for his contributions to the success of the school's student newspaper, The Blue and Black, and for his work as a student leader.

The award was presented at a ceremony held at the Louisville Times headquarters.

EASTERN'S GUTHRIE WINS TOP HONOR

Bruce C. Guthrie, editor-in-chief of the Eastern High School student newspaper and a candidate for the State Senate District 5 seat, received the Top Honor award from the Louisville Times newspaper.

Guthrie was chosen for his contributions to the success of the school's student newspaper, The Blue and Black, and for his work as a student leader.

The award was presented at a ceremony held at the Louisville Times headquarters.