Woman's Club meets

By RACHEL MOORE

The Whitesburg Women's Club met at the Letcher County Library on Saturday evening. Miss Virginia Goodwin, vice-president, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. R.C. Day gave the program, a review of the White House Conference on Children and Youth which she had attended a few months ago.

Hostesses were Mrs. Forrest Gymly, Mrs. Ed Sherritt, Mrs. Ed Kiefer, Mrs. Jack Bevel and Miss Virginia Vermillion. Other guests were Mrs. Phil Bentley, Mrs. C.B. Bade, Mrs. Louis Armstrong, Mrs. Sam Collins, Mrs. William Collins, Mrs. Jack Craft, Mrs. Larry Iron, Mrs. Leonad Lewis, Mrs. Clara Shaw, Mrs. Cecil Webb, Mrs. Glen Smith, and guest Mrs. Emery Lewis.

Dr. Fred Ruth of Cumberland College held a three day revival at the First Baptist Church last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louise Kincer spent the weekend at their home.

In Frankfort, the projects director for EEA, Don Roby, told the Mountain Eagle that EEA opportunities "were meant primarily for a family's head- worker, and not for those in relatively wealthy situations." The program was meant primarily "for the disadvantaged," he added. A third consideration was the "underemployed, with veterans getting the first preference there."

"On a whole," Roby contended, "we feel the program has gone well." Yet, he admitted, in some cases the program's purposes "have been thwarted" by the judges. Part of the problem, he said, was that the federal guidelines "were not specific" in some areas.

Engaged

Mrs. Edith Majority, Whitesburg, announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Helen, to David Ross Fields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Fields, Whitesburg.

Miss Majority is the daughter of the late Jim Majority and is a Senior at Whitesburg High School. Mr. Fields attends Hazard Vocational School.

The wedding will take place on December 18 at 2:30 p.m. at the St. George Catholic Church in Whitesburg.

All friends of the couple are invited.

Kiger promoted

Willard A. Kiger of Huntington, W. Va., has been elected president of Electric & Machine Co., succeeding W. Melvin Adams.

Adams, who has been president of the firm since 1941, will continue to be active in the firm. He will assume the newly-created position of chairman of the executive committee and vice-president.

Adams said the changes are in response to growth and expansion of the firm, which was founded in 1949 and has become a leader in the manufacturer and sale of underground mining machinery and equipment.

The firm's executive offices were moved from Whitesburg to Huntington in 1964. Branch offices, manufacturing facilities and shops are located in Whitesburg-Huntington, Charleston, Beckley and Logan, W. Va., Medina, Ohio, and at Marion, Ill.

The firm's business activities also extend into the western mining areas, Canada, Mexico and other foreign countries.

Kiger joined Electric & Machinery Co. in 1946 and has been involved with the board of directors and most recently has served as secretary and executive vice president. He and Mrs. Kiger and their three children, Larry, Craig and Sharon, reside at 1906 Enslow Blvd., Huntington, W. Va.

regulations and environmental quality plans, programs or policies that bear appeal from rulings by the commissioner of the new department.

The board would in effect replace the 13-man commission on air and water pollution control. The new board's composition would differ drastically from the present commissions.

No one could serve on the board who was an employee or agent of or owned more than 5 percent of the voting stock of an organization regulated by the department. State officials would not serve on the board by virtue of their positions, as at least six do now.

Five of the members would be appointed by the governor, four by the lieutenant governor, and four by the speaker of the House of Representatives. All are now appointed by the governor.

Board members would receive no compensation other than for necessary expenses, just as is the case now.

Any appeal from a decision of the board would be taken to circuit court in the county where the matter arises.

The bill would also create by statute a physical resources coordinating commission, made up of the heads of several state agencies, as Gov. Marland has been by executive order. The new coordinating commission would be to help coordinate efforts against pollution.
