

This is my Birthday and if the Bible is right I am 40 years Old This begins to figure up an Old Man and it is only by actual figures that we can realize the rapid flight of time Truly time speeds away away away and on its resistless tide we are being rapidly carried to that Bourne from whence no Traveller ere returns A few more years perhaps and we will only be remembered as things of the Past but I trust to live again where age does not affect us and where the glories of a better world will never fail
