After several days of beautiful spring weather, of which the farmers took advantage to burn plantbeds, a rainy spell set in again Monday

The farmers will save money by buying Stoves, Tinware, Hardwars, Plows, Hoes, Trace Chains, Hames, Axes, &c., &c., from J. L. MILLER.

Mr. N. Fougerasse, a druggist of eighteen years experience in the business at Louisville, was here last week trying to get a suitable house to open up a drug store.

The protracted meeting is still going on in the Elm street Methodist church. No conversions or additions to the church have yet been made, but the interest is increasing, and a big revival is anticipated.

Mr. Henry Baldauf, one of our former citizens and business men, but now a citizen of Henderson, and doing a prosperous business there, is in the city for a few days. He is looking well and hearty, and is the happy father of four bouncing boys.

There will be services at the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath, the 23rd inst., as follows: Sabbath School, 9 a. m.; preaching at 10:30 a. m., and at 7:15 p. m. Prayer-meeting and lecture every Wednesday at 7 p. m.

M. MAY, Pastor in Charge.

Read Dent, Bassett & Co's. advertisement in this issue. They are live merchants of Leitchfield, and will appreciate all the Breckenridge county trade that call on them, and give them good bargains besides.

Smith & Adkisson, Webster, have secured all the lumber necessary to construct their new storehouse, and the carpenters will begin work on it right away. They have "set their megs" to put up the handsomest storehouse in the county, and they will do it.

We are pleased to learn that Roland Smith has again secured the mail routes from this city to Hardinsburn, Hardinsburg to Stephensport, and Hardinsburg to Leitchfield. We will venture the assertion that no contractor in the entire country performs more satisfactory work in carrying and delivering mails. Our only regret is that he has not the contract from Hardinsburg to Muldraugh.

Mr. O. L. Fahrenberg, late of Texas, has rented Mrs. T. M. Miller's storehouse in Hardinsburg, and is repairing and putting it in condition for a photograph and picture gallery. Mr. F. is a fine workman, having been raised up in the business from infancy. His specimens indicate that he is a good artist, and the people of Hardinsburg and vicinity may rest assured that his work will be first-class in every particular. Give the young man a call.

President B. K. Mason, of the People's Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, is in jail on charges of forgery and general swindling, and the house is in the hands of an assignee. Semonin & Co., of the Pike Tobacco Warehouse, made an assignment last Friday morning, and Peter Semonin, the president, and his son Will, who was cashier, have fled, it is supposed, to Canada. The Louisville tobacco trade is terribly exercised over these failures, and many dealers and several banks are said to be large losers.

In the circuit court, business up to the present time has not developed much volume, and the prospect is very good for a light docket. There have been filed up to this time thirty-five equity and ordinary cases, six of which are brought by Mr. T. D. Kingston, through his attorneys, Kincheloe & Eskridge, on attachment bonds. Mrs. Sue H. McGary, through her attorneys, D. R. Murray and F. DeHaven, files a suit against her husband, W. T. McGary, for divorce, on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment toward her as a husband, that such treatment has practically destroyed her peace and happiness, and prays judgment for a divorce.

Is Your Life Worth a Dollar!

Perhaps that seems too high a price for it, considering how poor your blood is, and how your whole system is prostrated debilitated, and enfeebled. People have been heard to say they would not give the loss of a copper for the choice between life and death. Now, my friends, if you feel that way, go to your druggist and buy a bottle of Dr. Whitesel's Blood Specific, and you will feel like living. It purifies and vitalizes the blood, tones the nerves, and builds up the whole system. Invest one dollar and be convinced. For sale by

A City Convention.

Editor Breckenridge News:

In order to have unanimity of opinion and action in the matter of candidates for the positions of mayor and councilmen—in order to select the best men in our city for those offices—will you not, in the absence of any formal committee or organization for the purpose, announce a mass convention of the citizens of Cloverport, to be held at Fisher's Hall on Thursday night, March 27, instant, for the purpose of selecting and putting forward a ticket for the support of the better elements of our population, irrespective of party? And oblige,
MANY CITIZENS.

The above suggestion comes from a responsible source. It is worthy of consideration. The history of charter elections under the old town organization should teach us that the way to avoid the election of objectionable persons to responsible municipal positions is for the law and order loving portion of the population to meet, organize, put out a ticket, and, more important still, support that ticket at the polls. We must have no more law-makers who themselves violate the law by refusing to pay their town taxes. We must endeavor to avoid the election of a city council who conceive the multiplication of dram-shops the only duty and mission of that body. But we must elect men who will take earnest interest in the affairs of the municipality; who will see that all the laws are strictly and impartially enforced; who will, in obedience to the general law, make publication at least once a year of the financial condition of the corporation—something the boards of trustees have done but once in five years—for the information of the people who, by honest payment of their taxes, support the city government. As matters now stand, we doubt if there is a member of the present board of trustees can tell the financial condition of the town, the amount of its indebtedness how much of that indebtedness was liquidated during the past year, how the money raised by taxation was expended, etc. A new leaf must be turned over, and the advent of our town into the rank and file of cities, presents the best opportunity in the world for turning that leaf. For ourself, we have no favorites to put forward, no axe to grind. Any ticket selected by the proposed meeting will suit us, no matter whether it be composed of democrats or republicans, or both. The object to be attained is above any mere political consideration. All that we ask is a ticket composed of good men, true men, honest men—men who have capacity to understand the duties demanded of them and the courage to perform those duties. In order that such a ticket may be formed and formulated, let every man who has the good and prosperity of our young city at heart attend this mass meeting or convention at Fisher's Hall on Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock, March 27th, and assist in its formation.

A Mass Meeting in Opposition to the New County Project.

At a mass meeting of citizens of Breckenridge county, held in the courthouse at Hardinsburg on Monday the 17th inst., Col. Alfred Allen was called to the chair and Mr. John D. Babbage appointed secretary.

Judge Mercer stated that the object of the meeting was to take concerted action against the movement in the legislature to create a new county out of portions of Breckenridge, Grayson and Ohio counties. He was of the opinion that unless the opposition to this attempt to dismember our county, on behalf of fully nine-tenths of its population, was made distinctly manifest to the legislature there was grave danger that the bill creating the proposed new county would pass that body.

Mr. James G. Haswell thereupon presented the following resolution, which, after considerable and animated discussion, was adopted by an almost unanimous vote:

Be it resolved, That Messrs. G. W Beard, V. B. Burton, B. F. Beard, C. W. Moorman, Milton Board, and all other citizens of Breckenridge county who would go, be appointed a committee to proceed to Frankfort and submit to the legislature our unqualified opposition to any disturbance or alteration of the lines of this county, and to use all honorable means in their power to defeat any measure looking to that end. And, further, that the county judge be requested to use all the lawful powers he possesses to provide the means to pay the expenses of said committee.

An additional resolution was adopted providing that none save those who went to Frankfort expressly to carry out the object of the foregoing resolution should have their expenses paid by the county.

The meeting then adjourned.

Monday night, Messrs. G. W. and B F. Beard, C. W. Moorman and V. B Burton left this city on the Guthrie for Frankfort to carry out the instructions of the meeting.

Bon Voyage.

Mr. Edwin Bacon, of the firm of J. Bacon & Sons, Louisville, Ky., the most wide-awake and enterprising mercantile association that has developed in the west or southwest during the last decade, sails to-day from New York on the steamer "Gallia," of the Cunard line. He goes in the interest of their house, will be gone for a period of at least five months, and will visit all the manufacturing centers in Europe. This is the second year that this firm has been represented abroad. Having ample means to make cash purchases from manufacturers direct, they are enabled to offer unusual inducements to buyers. They do entirely away with the commission men. We are credibly informed that the leading western and southern houses, with this one exception, purchase all their foreign goods through commission agents, who charge from 7½ to 10 per cent. for selling the goods and attending to the custom details up to the time they are placed in the market in which they are sold.

In connection with this evidence of the nerve and push displayed by this firm, they are now engaged in making extensive additions to their already spacious stores, which, when completed, will give them one thousand and twenty square feet more than they now occupy.

A Primary Election for Sheriff.

Editor Breckenridge News:

HARDINSBURG, KY., March 17.—At a called meeting of the democratic district committee of Breckenridge county, held at the courthouse this day, the following members were present:

B. F. Beard, chairman; Jas. Bishop, secretary; Henry Head, Clifton Mills; McH. Meador, Big Spring; W. L. Turpin, Hudsonville; T. B. Henderson, Bewleyville; Robert Robertson, Planter's Hall; Eli Dean Rock Vale; Buck Adkisson, Clifton Mills; James Spencer, Forks of Rough; W. G. Smart, Cloverport.

It was unanimously agreed that a Primary Election be held in each precinct on the 5th day of April to select a sheriff's ticket, and that the chairman of each district order an election to be held in each precinct for that purpose on the 5th.

Robert E. Miller's Suicide.

We copy the following account of the suicide of Robert E. Miller, an account of which we gave last week, from the Buffalo Courier:

A well dressed stranger arrived at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' hotel on the 4th of last month, and registered as Robert E. Miller. He said a former patient of the institution had recommended him there for treatment. The man was apparently in good health physically, but was suffering from nervous prostration which had developed into melancholia. He was assigned a room on the fourth floor which was constantly occupied by him until yesterday, when he took his own life.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Miller called upon Dr. Wade, who is one of the medical staff of the sanitarium, and expressed himself as feeling very badly. He appeared greatly depressed in spirit. The doctor tried to cheer him and to a certain extent succeeded, the deceased leaving him in a much better frame of mind. Unfortunately, however, the better state lasted but a few minutes, for from what can be learned the rash deed which sent him into eternity must have been committed very soon afterward. It appears that upon leaving Dr. Wade's office he went directly to his room. A few minutes later one of the servants in the house heard a fall which was thought to be in the vicinity of Miller's room, but owing to carpenters being at work on the premises some one said they were probably the cause of the noise and no more attention was given it. About eleven o'clock a chambermaid upon going into the bed-room discovered the unfortunate man in what she thought was a faint. Doctors Smith and Wade were summoned, but upon their arrival he was quite dead and had probably been so for at least an hour and a half. The body when found was lying with the head towards the dressing case, while an ordinary sized revolver clenched in one hand explained the ghastly wound in the right side of the head just back of the temple.

Coroner Scott was immediately notified and took charge of the dead man and his effects. From papers found upon him it was learned that he had been in the army ten years and was a clerk in the quartermaster's office at Fort Assinaboine, Montana, and that his parents lived at Pellville, Hancock county, Kentucky. A memorandum was written on a small piece of paper which read: "If anything should happen to me while here it is my desire that my effects should be sent to my father, James A Miller, Pellville, Hancock county, Kentucky." A certificate was also found which showed the deceased had deposited $1,000 with the Trust and Safe Deposit company of this city. He had some very good jewelry.

Friday evening Jno. Akeridge, farmer living near Hodgensville, left his two sons, aged 11 and 16, alone, and, failing to come at dark, the elder son went to a neighbor's house to get company for the night. In returning home with a boy named Sidebottom, he proposed to scare his younger brother by playing Jesse James. Arriving at the house, they began kicking and knocking at the door. After repeated blows Akeridge put his head up to the window, and received a charge from an old shotgun in the hands of the eleven-year old boy. The load entered the mouth, and ranging through the cheek, tore the right ear entirely off. It will prove fatal.

DRY VALLEY.

Dry Valley has got to be one of the wettest places I know of.

Mr. Editor, we heard a young man remark, "The News surely has been drinking razor-soup." He had been reading those "Pony Dashes." Tell some more like them. They are good ones.

The men are all busy burning plantbeds. I believe most of them are canvassing their beds, which is a good idea, late as it is.

The new county road is doing fine. So are the people. The church will do fine about next church-meeting day.

Young "Smart Aleck," whar is you? We didn't know Dry Valley could afford two "Smart Alecks" and Norton's School house one, and Robbin's Schoolhouse one. The people are all getting very smart, indeed. That's on account of this new road, we suppose. We'll all be smarter than ever when the railroad comes.

We should like to know what a young man means when he comes right in the middle of the week and stays all night and till late next day? Can you not tell us, Miss Ruth?

We wish Mr. Stout would hurry back to the saw-mill and saw the logs that are lying at random around the mill. There are about two hundred and fifty ready for the saw.

We don't know what your name is that asked about that goose, but the last we saw of it, it was lying out in front of Mr. Norton's door with its heels sticking in the air. We suppose Bill got tired carrying it around and killed it. That was bad, Bill.

With best wishes for the success of the NEWS, we shall desist. SMART ALECK.

Swept Into the Stream.

One Thousand Acres of Land and "Right Smart of Bears."

On the dock of a big Mississippi steamboat stood an aged Southern planter. Indicating by a sweep of his arm the waters the boat was passing over, he said to a passenger from the North: "When I was twelve years old I killed my first bear on a new plantation my father was then cutting out of a forest that grew directly over the waters of this bend. That was a mighty good plantation, and there was right smart of bears there, too. But that one thousand acres of land went into the Mississippi years ago."

It is putting no strain upon the figures to say that great forests of youthful hope, womanly beauty and manly strength are swept in the same way every year into the great, turbid torrent of disease and death. Yet it should not be so. That it is so is a disgrace as well as a loss. People are largely too careless or too stupid to defend their own interests—the most precious of which is health. That gone, all is gone. Disease is simple, but to recklessness or ignorance the simplest things might as well be complex as a proposition in Conic Sections. As the huge Western rivers, which so often flood the cities along their shores, arise in a few mountain springs, so all our ailments can be traced to impur eblood and a small group of disordered organs.

The most effective and inclusive remedy for disease is PARKER'S TONIC. It goes to the sources of pain and weakness. In response to its action, the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart begin their work afresh, and disease is driven out. The Tonic, however, is not an intoxicant, but cures a desire for strong drink. Have you dyspepsia, rheumatism, or troubles which have refused to yield to other agents? Here is your help.
