Our Next Governor--Dr. Buchanan.

Since the first announcement of the wishes of the best, truest, and most judicious democrats in our State, that Dr. Buchanan should be the next governor of Kentucky, the suggestion has been so extensively approved, and seems to meet so cordial a support, that we have entire confidence in its success. We believe, in short, that Dr. Buchanan will, in all probability, be the nominee of the democratic State convention, and that, if there should be any serious opposition to him, he will sweep the State by such a majority as has never been known in Kentucky in any State election.

The people have long been deprived of the privilege of electing a chief magistrate whose principles they could heartily approve, and they will move with enthusiasm when they have an opportunity of placing the reins of government in the hands of a true Kentuckian--one who has never wavered or faltered in allegiance to the constitution and to his native State.

The men who have long been proscribed and positively ostracised in Kentucky will rally to the support of one who has been, like them, under the frowns of arbitrary power, and who has suffered tedious imprisonement for his fidelity to the great charter of American liberty.

While the unprincipled Burbridge has been expelled from the State by the withering scorn of freedmen, his victim, Duvall, receives the highest reward the freemen of Kentucky had then to bestow, and his other victim, Buchanan, whom he threatenen with summary death or banishment, will soon be in a position in which he can extend or withhold clemency to criminals like Burbridge when they are in the grasp of the offended laws.

"Thus ever the right comes uppermost.
And ever is justice done."

The earnest democrats of Kentucky will rally to the support of Buchanan, remembering how he upheld our banner in 1864, when all was dark and hopeless, and by that movement secured the recognition of the Kentucky democracy at the Chicago convention. They will recollect to how he raised the flag and led the movement of 1866, which gave the democracy unquestioned control of the State.—They will not allow such signal services to pass without recognition; and, although he may not have asked or sought anything from the people but their approbation, they will take pride in giving him an opportunity to display the same wisdom and decision in the chief magistracy of the state which he has shown in managing its political movements without any other reward than imprisonment and obloquy.

Dr. Buchanan is not a man of any bitter partisan feeling, prejudice or passion. Though bold when boldness is necessary, he is eminently cautious, conservative and forgiving. He has probably not an enemy in the world. He would perform every duty with judicial impartiality and eye solely to the public good, for such has always been his character for the many years that we have known him, and, although he is a true representative of the democracy of Kentucky, his nomination would not aggravate the hostility of northern radicals, for even Horace Greeley, Chief Justice Chase, Bancroft, Bryant and Quincy are so well acquainted with the genial philanthropy of his nature and the sincerity of his patriotism, that their political hostility would be modified by their respect for the man.

No man in our country has been more absorbed in the consideration of matters that concern the public welfare and the general interest and progress of society. His defense of the slave holding states, in the form of memorial to the legislature of Kentucky, was the most thorough and perfect vindication that has ever been published. Much as we have admired the productions of Governor Hammond, Edward Fisher and Prof. Bledsoe, they are not to be compared with Dr. Buchanan's memorial as an exhaustive discussion of the subject, and an overwhelming logical arry of facts.

If such a document could have been placed in the hands of every voter, twenty years ago, it might have done much to allay the rage of fanaticism and have averted some of our national calamities. Kentucky has produced no more intellectual man than Dr. Buchanan, and she owes it to herself to make use of his abilities. As a writer he has all the vigor and power of Dr. R. J. Breckinridge without his fierce intolerance and fickleness. He is judicious, profound, and original, a natural leader in the realm of thought and opinion, and it is to be regretted that he has not more of the ambition of a political leader. Hundreds have made their way to high positions with less than half his native abilities.

His nomination from different quarters has been a spontaneous tribute to his worth which will be ratified in 1867 by the final decision of the vox populi, vox Dei.

JACKSON DEMOCRAT.

HON. E. M. BRUCE.—The claims of this liberal and high toned gentleman should not be overlooked when the Democracy come to make their account and reward those who have been faithful and zealous in their cause. Mr. Bruce has eminent claims to some office of honor, trust or profit, but especilly to one of the two former as his private fortune renders one of the latter a matter of indifference.—He has probably done as much as any man in the country to aid those who were in prison or suffering from the calamities of war. It need only to have been mentioned to him that a Democrat was imprisoned for his opinion's sake and he ministered to him with no stinted hand. He spent his private means like water for the relief of all such, and thousands of political prisoners and prisoners of war had cause to bless his bounty. This was not done with ostentation and parade, but he made use of almoners, and the recipients of his bounty often did not know the source from which relief came. As the office of Lieutenant Governor is one of honor more than profit, it would be a fitting tribute to Mr. Bruce's generosity and other virtues to nominate him for it. I know of no man who would grace the position more admirably than the subject of this notice. ONE WHO KNOWS.

The above we copy from the last number of the Kentucky Gazette, says the Louisville Courier, and we are prepared to indorse every word said in behalf of Mr. Bruce. He is a man of clear head, fine judgment and wonderful zeal and energy, and would be useful and efficient in any position which he might be called upon to fill. During the war his munificent liberality to the soldiers from Kentucky, both sick and well, won for him their gratitude and admiration of all who knew of his lavish expeditures. There is no man who has so man warm friends among the returned soldiers and their relatives, and his nomination would add strength and popularity to the best ticket that could be nominated.

We see by our exchanges that Mr. Bruce has been strongly solicited to accept the Presidency of the Maysville & Lexington R. R. Co., as it is believed his energy and skill would soon secure the completion of the work. In his decision we doubt not he will defer to the wishes of his numerous friends who desire to see him in another position.

From the Fleming County Dispatch.

Democratic Meeting.

At a meeting of the Democracy of Fleming county, held at the Court House on Monday, Nov. 26th, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the Democratic State Convention, to be held in Frankfort, on the 22d day of February next, on motion of Hon. Jos. M. Alexander, D K. WEIS was appointed Chairman, and M. M. TEAGAR, Secretary,

The Chairman, having made a brief statement of the objects of the meeting, on motion of Hon. Jos. M. Alexander, the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee on resolutions, viz:

T. L. Given, J. E. Smith, A. E. Cole, Dr. R. P. Samuel, S. E. Armstrong, H. K. Sousley, Marshall McCann, F. R. Davis, Dr. J. N. Proctor, Dr. J. A. O'Bannan, Ammon Jones, and Stamper Dickey, who retired for deliberation, after which they reported the following preamble and resoiutions, to-wit:

WHEREAS, the Democratic State Central Committee of Kentucky have appointed the 22d day of February, 1867, for the holding of a Democratic Convention, at the city of Frankfort, Ky., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor and other State officers; therefore,

1 Resolved, That we, the Democracy of Fleming county, in Convention assembled, do approve of the time and place of holding said Convention, and duly endorse the purposes of the same.

2 Resolved, That we reiterate the principles enunciated by resolutions addopted by the Convention assembled in the city of Louisville, on the 1st day of May last, and upon which we won so glorious a victory at the last August election, and we heartily reccommend them as wise, patriotic, conservative, and purely Democratic.

3 Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of the President of the United States in his efforts to restore the unity of the States, and peace and harmony to destracted country, and we do hereby pledge him our most earnest support in all his constitutional efforts to accomplish the same.

4 Resolved, That we do in the most unqualified terms, denounce the conduct and proceedings of the last Radical Congress in its gross and flagrant usurpations of power in violation of the rights and privileges of the Constitution of the country, as leading to revolution, anarchy, and a tyranical despotism, and destructive to the best interests of our Republican system, and it persisted in, must ultimately lead to consolidation and ruin.

5 Resolved, That we reccommend to said Convention the name of Hon. R. H. STANTON, for nomination as a candidate for Governor for the State of Kentucky at the next August election.

A large and very respectable number of delegates were appointed to represent the county in the State Democratic Convention.

7 Resolved, That we do most positively condemn and most bitterly denounce the course pursued by the present member of Congress from the 9th Congressional District of Kentucky, as being in direct antagonism to the express will of the people of said District, and in hostility to their best interests.

8 Resolved, That in view of the approaching Congressional election we cordially present the name of the Hon. JOSEPH M. ALEXANDER to the favorable consideration of the Democracy of the 9th Congressional District, and most heartily recommend him for nomination as a candidate for Congress, to the Convention that may be held for said District.

Which resolutions were adopted as an expression of the sense of the meeting.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

D. K. WEIS, Chairman.
M. M. TEAGAR, Secretary.

☞We have, says the Selma Messenger, at last the official vote of the five great States of the Union cast at the late elections. It is as follows:

	DEM.	REP.
New York,	351.491	369.133
Pennsylvania,	200.031	308.250
Ohio,	213.506	270.302
Indiana,	155.192	169.618
Illinois,	147.158	203.245
	1,169,391	1 306.548

The presence of 1,200,000 Democrats in five States, out of 2,500,000 votes, will show how little truth there is in the assertion that the Democracy are dying out or becoming a feeble faction. The figures tell a different story.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—The well known hotel at Mayslick, formerly kept by our popular and accommodating friend, Gov. Herndon, was consumed by fire, on Saturday morning last just before day. It caught in the kitchen, and soon extended over the whole edifice, consuming the post-office, and a large part of the furniture of Mr. Hopper, the landlord. Several of the boarders suffered small losses. There was no insurance upon the property. Loss, estimated at $1,500.—Maysville Bulletin.

SOUTHERN AID.—The Observer gives a glowing account of the great Fair now progressing in Lexington, and which will close with a calico ball.—The Observer says that the entire people of the State, man and woman, boy and girl, the old and the youthful with one accord have thrown their every endeavor into the scale, and declared that famine should not find a lurking place upon the continent as long as God gave a harvest to the blue grass fields of Kentucky.

[From the Owensboro Monitor.]

The interest in the revivals now in progress at the Cumberland Presbyterian and Methodist churches in this city continues unabated, and a number have already made professions, among them several of our best young citizens.

SOUTHERN RELIEF.—The Russellville Herald containes the proceedings of a meeting at which a Southern Aid Society was organized for Logan county.

A negro man named George Whitaker was killed by two of his associates with whom he was gambling in Logan county, on Sunday last. The murderers are still at large.

Mr. Richard Busteed, who was sent down from the North somewhere to be Judge of a Federal Court in Alabama, and who was never suspected of having an extra quantity of brains, has delivered a charge to the grand jury at Huntsville, in which he goes out of his way to pronounce in favor of the Constitutional amendment. He also recommends that every Confederate should be arrested and tried for treason.

It will gratify the friends of learning in Louisiana and the many admirers of Raphael Semmes, late Admiral of the Confederate States navy, says the New Orleans Crescent, to learn that he was appointed at a recent meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the Louisiana State Seminary, Professor of Moral Philosophy and English Literature in that institution.

☞Sales were made by Major Hibler, at the farm of Mrs. Boren, near Winchester: 240 acres at $94 20—half cash, balance in twelve months.—Horses sold well; cattle rather low; stock hogs bought $4 50 per hundred; stock cattle at 5½c.—Lex. Gazette.

HON. JOHN BELL.—The Nashville Banner says: The many friends of the Hon. John Bell, of Tennessee, will be pleased to learn that the venerable statesman is in the enjoyment of unusual good health. He is at present ruralizing in the vicinity of Cumberland Iron Works, and occasionally joins in a deer hunt with a zest and spirit of the youngest.

It is a curious illustration of the strange notions prevalent in France in reference to the Emperor Napoleon that among the workingmen of Paris, there is a story that he has been dead a fortnight, and was personated at the review on Monday by a well known tentmaker. There are three men in Paris, it seems, who very closely resemble his majesty—one being the tentmaker in question, another a woodranger in the Bois de Boulogne, and the third the keeper of a dancing room at Mont Parnassus.

Doubtless he has escaped from some itinerant menagerie. Considerable excitement prevails in the locality where it is reported this wild beast was seen.—New Albany Ind. Ledger.

FINE CHRISTMAS BEEF.—Mr. Joseph Owen, of this county, shipped last week to New York a fat steer and cow, weighing respectively 2,750 and 2,160 pounds. Mr. H. Rice shipped at the same time two steers which weighed 4,405 pounds. The New Yorkers may well smack their lips in anticipation of a feast on such meat at Christmas.—True Kentuckian.
