"Fire Prevention"

The onset of winter increases fire hazards by more than a third. Winter means heated homes and barns and also an increase in fire hazards, a 34 per cent increase. Cracked chimneys, corroded flues, defective furnaces and improperly discarded hot ashes are the villains. Make sure that your heating plant is in good working condition.

An annual farm loss of over $90,000,000 is more than any country can afford, especially during the present food crisis.

Fire prevention on the farm is only half the job for complete fire safety. A farmer must make provisions to protect his farm if he wants to keep it. He must take the time to instruct his family and his farm hands in the use of fire-fighting equipment. A farmer must see to it that a sufficient number of approved fire extinguishers are on his property and that they are placed in strategic locations.

The first five minutes of a fire are the most important. You can do more to control a fire in the first five minutes than can be done in the next five hours. Fight that fire the minute you discover it.
