Kentucky Medical Association To Honor Whole Family

More than half of the 1200 people attending the Association's 105th annual meeting Sept. 27-29 is a record for the number of delegates. The President, C. H. Whitten, spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peacetime," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.

The President's speech was an address by the President of the Governors, Elmer Hess, M. D., of Elkhorn, D. S. P. D., of the Physiological Association. He spoke at the opening session of the three-day body and at the closing session of the evening, Sept. 27, on "The Problem of Peace," which many believe will be the most successful program of the Association's lifetime.