Charm is defined as "attractiveness, the power to delight or attract people." In my opinion, that applies to a place called Henry County.

If you are fortunate enough to have spent most of your life in Henry County, consider yourself one of the lucky ones! From the perspective of an outsider, the fact that many Henry County residents take pride in the contributions which have grown the community is charming. I find it inspiring and charming place populated by gentle, yet strong people, who value their rural lifestyles.

Of course, the first thing which catches the attention of newcomers to the area is the beautiful old buildings. In today’s society, it appears much easier to move down, rather than maintain older structures.

Yet here, people have managed to save the older structures while also constructing new ones. That says a lot about the community values. It also teaches younger generations the unspoken lesson of holding their past and acknowledging who they are today.

While the older structures are delightful, I have found the charm of the county to be its people. Yes, we are nice people everywhere, but especially in Henry County! For the past couple of months, I was new to town and I have been snow bound with a knee injury in Henry County; and in that time, I have never encountered a single rude person who failed to make me feel welcome.

Now, I am not so naive as to believe there aren’t any rude people here, it’s just that those who are rude have been eradicated from my life. The small town charm and rural lifestyle make for a more friendly and cooperative atmosphere among the inhabitants of this county. From total strangers, patrons group directions to a newcomer, to the kindness of fellow shoppers, the people of Henry County make it feel welcoming.

The same applies to the Circuit Clerk. I want someone who has the experience and knowledge that has experience. Our courts are run by our judges depend on the Circuit Clerk to be an efficient and functional. We need someone who is comfortable with the knowledge to oversee our court system.

Over the last 25 years, we have had a Circuit Clerk who has been an experienced Circuit Clerk. Leland Ponton was presented by Mary Lou Roberts who has been a Circuit Clerk for a couple of months.

Now we have the opportunity to elect Gise Giselle our current deputy clerk to the office of Circuit Clerk. Let’s continue having the person to vote for the candidate who has experience.

A couple of months ago my roof needed some mechanical repairs. I found an experienced mechanic to do the work. Following that, I looked for a new roof on my house. I sought an experienced roofer to install the new roof.

That is the way most of us want our needs to be the most qualified doctor, lawyer, and to do the things we need done with a precise experience.
