New veil clasps at Danks. GET a diamond ring free. See Danks' big ad. THERE are at present two excellent store-rooms on Main street vacant.

Ask J. C. FLORENCE for Obelisk flour to make white biscuits and the best light bread you ever ate. THE Danville Fair was tip-top, but we learn that it too lost money, another argument in favor of a four-county fair.

An aged negro woman at Richmond, aunt Peggy Jackson, claims to be the mother of Pete Jackson, the noted pugilist. Pete's backers have claimed all along that he is Australian, and "not a d—n nigger."

By a notice in this issue it will be seen that B. F. Jones & Son have decided to pull up stakes and leave us, which will be generally regretted. From now until they go you can get goods at your own price from them.

C. D. BERCAW, passenger agent of the Kentucky Midland, writes: "We will accept and transport with promptness local and through passengers. We are also moving all classes of freight without delay." The road has been tied up by the sheriff.

FROSTS in the Northwest sent the mercury away down here and overcoats in August were as comfortable as gauze shirts were the latter part of April. Yesterday was as delicious as an October day. The weather service says it will be slightly warmer and fair Tuesday.

MR. W. F. SHERRIDAN, chief train dispatcher, tells us that the stock train on the K. C. will run up to Stanford commencing with to-day, instead of stopping at Rowland as heretofore. This will be much more convenient for our shippers. The train will leave on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

THE Lodge of Knights of Pythias is considering the question of building a hall for its use and Sir Knights J. S. Owsley, Jr., W. H. Wearen and J. T. Embury are investigating for the best location. If built it will likely be an added story to the INTERIOR JOURNAL building.

In her Institute notes last issue Miss Georgia Lewis said that some of the young ladies would like to be White without the use of cosmetics, whereupon Mr. White dashed off the following and gave to us:

Miss Georgia L., so true and fair, With beautiful tresses of golden hair, Need not make a long and labored fight, For without cosmetics she can be White.

MR. R. C. ENGLEMAN is offended because this paper referred to his attack of vertigo in Danville the other day as a fit. He never had a fit in his life, he says, and if any of the Engleman family ever had one he is not aware of it. No, ladies and gentlemen, and especially the ladies, it was not a fit, but a plain, every day case of vertigo, induced by severe heat.

GEORGE L. PENNY did not win the five mile handicap at Danville, but rode a very creditable race and got third money. He and Eugene Pearce, of Danville, started from the scratch, while the other nine starters were given from 50 to 250 yards. The finish was close, with Shelton first, Jean second and Penny third. Time 14:42. As Penny beat Pearce, the other scratch man, and was in the bunch at the finish, he went the distance a second or so quicker than any of them.

LAWYER DAVIDSON, after many trials and great tribulation, has succeeded in deluding a sufficient number of republicans into the belief that they have a show, to form a county ticket, which will likely be nominated Monday. He heads it of course for judge. There is no lawyer but the colored Statesman, G. W. Gentry, who would accept the nomination for county attorney, and he doesn't want him, so there will be no candidate for attorney. J. F. Cummins will be the candidate for clerk, H. J. Harman for sheriff, Adam Petry or Mr. Phelps, of Waynesburg, for jailer, and Tom Terry for assessor. None of them stand as much show as a snow ball does in hades, but the boss must make an effort and the sheep he has selected for the slaughter with himself are as good possibly as he could get.

COLLARETTI, the newest thing for the ladies at Danks, the jeweler.

New 1894 tax books open. Call and settle at once. J. N. Menefee, sheriff.

H. F. HORTON is moving his stock of furniture to Highland, where he will continue the business.

WILKINSON BROS. are doing nicely in the barbering business. Their shop is neat and cool. Give them a trial.

Rev. W. J. HOLTZCLAW, of Owensboro, has a namesake at Mr. Geo. S. Carpenter's. It's an unusually game chicken of the male persuasion.

THE democratic county committee is requested to meet at the Court-House in Stanford at 2 P. M., Aug. 13, to set the time and manner for nominating candidates for magistrate and constable in the various precincts of the county. R. R. Gentry, Chairman.

THE C. & O. will run no excursion to Old Point this month, owing to the K. P. rate to Washington, but Mr. G. W. Barney, district passenger agent, writes Mr. J. S. Hocker that he will make a rate on any train to a party of 10 at $15 to Old Point and return.

EPH PENNINGTON tells us that Mr. Greenberry Bright objected so seriously to dancing on his place that the Hubble dancing club have moved their tables to Cold Spring, a beautiful spot on Mr. B. W. Givens' farm, where dances will be held every Saturday afternoon.

MR. GREENBERRY BRIGHT, who is 91 years old to-morrow, personally defended a suit against him in Judge Varnon's court yesterday, brought by Constable Benedict for fees and costs on a claim he handled for him. The old gentleman made a strong argument, but he was mulcted with costs, &c. He says it is an illegal decision and is going to still fight the case.

THE Danville Advocate's suggestion that Lincoln, Mercer, Boyle and Garrard counties combine on a Fair next year is a good one, and we second the motion very heartily. One Fair in four counties is sufficient and with Danville's beautiful grounds, splendid accommodations and such a territory to draw from, there can be no doubt about making such a Fair a success financially and otherwise.

THE Caledonian Society continues to draw like a circus, notwithstanding as Mr. S. W. Menefee said, the public ought to have become tired of the same speakers and the same speeches. Mr. W. S. Burch delivered the welcoming address, which "possibly" has never been exceeded in beauty, wit and sarcasm. Logan Hughes and Ashby Warren declaimed very creditably; Berney Fish made music with his fiddle and the bow, Miss Nora Moreland in a clear, sweet voice sang "Wont You be my Sweetheart" as if she was not already supplied. She also sang "Thinking." Misses Pearl Burnside and Ethyl Beazley recited most admirably and then the debate began. J. L. Beazley and W. H. Shanks affirmed that the Love of Fame has more influence in human affairs than the Love of Money, and S. W. Menefee and Richard Bush spoke for the negative. The judges, G. D. Hopper, W. F. McClary and W. L. Withers, decided that the negative had the best of the argument. R. M. Newland read the paper, which was both entertaining and amusing. The meeting then adjourned till Saturday, Aug. 18th.
