A NEW YEAR'S SENTIMENT

It's most unwise to sulk or pine Because Dame Fortune comes not near us;

Unless our lamps of cheer may shine,
She well may shun and even fear us.

Let's do our best through ev'ry
day,
As long as duties weigh or
press us;
And though Dame Fortune goes
her way,
Our consciences will surely bless us.

'Tis not in gold, alone, that we May find reward for worthy labor;
A nobler merit there may be
In serving these—our friend and neighbor.

Oh, let us live our lives unspoiled
By narrow, selfish action;
And be content that we have toiled
In simple benefaction.
—M. H. Thatcher.

CUSTOMS IN IRELAND AT CHRISTMAS TIME

On Christmas Eve in England the Yule log is brought inside and placed in the big fireplace. According to custom, each person in the family must sit upon the log and salute it before it is lighted to assure good luck for the household in the same new year.

Religious services predominate in the English celebrations. Processions of carolers gather under the lofty arches of great cathedrals at midnight on Christmas Eve to sing the old and cherish hymns and carols. Christmas nummers are today enacting the same traditional plays which have been presented for the past several hundred years. Many of these plays, purely regional in character, bespeak Norman, Saxon, Viking, and Ancient British origins.

One of the most beautiful of all Christmas Customs is practiced in Ireland. On Christmas Evening candles are lighted and placed in every window of the house and doors are left ajar. The candlelight and open door are symbols of welcomed hospitality, assuring the Irish people that no couple seeking shelter for a baby who is the Son of God will be homeless. The candle light must shine forth all night long, and may be snuffed only by those by the name of Mary.

A cup and saucer is placed on the table in each home for the entertainment of wandering souls from purgatory, who are believed to come home for Christmas.

"Feeding the Wren", is a custom that is based on the legend of St. Stephens who was hiding in a furze bush and betrayed to his enemies by a wren. On St. Stephen's Day, the 26th of December, the children gather together, obtain a wren, and place it in a cage on top of a furze bush, while they go from door to door collecting money which will be used for charity.

CHANDLER ATTENDS FUNERALS HELD FOR TWO

Governor A. B. Chandler interrupted the routine of his third day in office by attending two funerals.

On Thursday morning he attended graveside services for the day-old son of Tom Gish, chief of the United Press bureau here, and Mrs. Gish. This afternoon, he was honorary pallbearer at the funeral of Mrs. Eleanor Hume Offutt, hostess at the reception after his inauguration in 1935.

Tom Gish is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gish of Seco, and Haymond and is a graduate of Fleming-Neon High School, later graduating from the University of Kentucky, School of Journalism. He is now United Press chief at the Frankfort Bureau. The Gishes have one other son.
