Business in The County Court.

The citizens of Clifton Mills have petitioned the County Court to make a voting place at that point. The matter was brought up last Monday, but was not decided. Charles Radenheimer, A. J Dye, B A. Parks, and E. M. Norton were present, urging the Court to make the change. Several years ago Clifton Mills was the voting place, being so for many years. After the district was changed, and the town of Irvington established the poll was changed to Webster. Now that there is a voting place at Irvington the Clifton Mills people think that their place would be more convenient and central for the whole district than Webster.

A petition was filed in the County Court last Monday signed by the requisite number of voters asking for a vote on local option in the Bewleyville, Irvington and Webster voting precincts. The election will be held on the 26th day of August.

The application of J. E. Chapin and Son for distillery license was rejected on account of insufficient notice.

Editorial Correspondence,
Convention Hall,
TUESDAY, JUNE 27th.

On the fifth day of this convention the utter incapacity and the abject servility of the chairman, Redwine, to Goebelism became apparent.

When the convention was called to order at 10 o'clock it was noticed that the hall was packed with policemen. There were fully 150 present, and quite a number of detectives and firemen in plain clothes were in the hall.

This enraged the delegates, and John Rhea made a motion that the hall be cleared of the police.

Redwine thought that when the police were ejected the delegates would throw him out of the window and elect a new chairman, and he refused to entertain the motion.

The creature of the convention then became greater than the sovereign body.

The delegates howled at him to call a vote on the motion. He said the motion was out of order, and ordered the clerk to call the roll of counties on the nominations for Governor.

The delegates paid no attention to this. They drowned the secretary's voice with cries, cat-calls, and with the blare of tin horns. They sang "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," "There'll be a Hot Time," and "Old Kentucky Home."

Several witty fellows improvised songs and one went as follows:

Redwine, Redwine,
I've been thinking
What a glorious thing it would be
If you were transported
Far beyond the Northern sea.

The delegates have no respect for the chair, They laugh and jeer at him. When he confers with anyone on the stage the delegates howl out, "What does Goebel say?" When he takes lunch they charge that Goebel pays for it. In fact they charge that every act of his life is controlled by Goebel.

This is the first time in history when policemen passed on the credentials of delegates to a Democratic convention.

Yesterday morning Emmett Orr tried to get into the hall. The policemen tried to put him out. A struggle ensued and while it was going on Chairman Redwine turned as white as a ghost and ran to the rear of the stage. The delegates yelled: "Coward!" "Pale wine!" "Red swine!" at the retreating chairman. Orr finally got in, and as a result of being roughly handled by the police he has retained a lawyer and will sue the policeman for $10,000.

Goebelism is master of the situation through the chairman, who is Goebel's creature. The party has been turned over to Haldeman and Weaver. The Courier-Journal is the official organ of what was once the Democratic party, but now exists as such in name only. Goebel openly boasts that he will get the nomination or make it hard sledding for the man that does. He has become greater than the cause. The man's insatiate ambition knows no bounds.

His followers are mostly made up of political pimps who believe that any low trick is right. They all say that if Goebel gets the nomination and every voter in the State votes against him he will still win as he will count himself in.

The fruitless delay in nominating the Governor is wearing out the minor candidates.

Their headquarters are no longer the scenes of festivity and good cheer. They are deserted, and free beer, free whiskey and free cigars are a matter of history. They have become a tradition.

Later in the day the secretary began to call the roll on the nomination for governor. He was several times howled down, but he persisted in the call. Men who were unauthorized to vote did so. The Hardin men refused to vote.

The Courier-Journal, with characteristic unfairness and disregard for the truth, said this morning that the noises made in the hall came from L. & N. employees and Whallenites.

They were made by the outraged Stone and Hardin men, who realized they had elected a chairman who was the puppet of his master.

The Stone and Hardin men would like for the convention to adjourn, and for the question of the gubernatorial nomination to go back to the people.

Today a dark horse is being spoken of, and the name of John Young Brown is on the lips of those who favor the nomination of a man who has kept free from the broils of the convention.

One thing is certain this convention has developed a brainy politician in the person of June W. Gayle, candidate for auditor. He is a warm-hearted, impulsive, generous young fellow, with the brain ability and executiveness that makes a fine politician. John B. Thompson gets the credit of much of the work that is done by Gayle.

The stampede that was started for Hardin Saturday and which forced that candidate back into the race was the work of June Gayle. E. G.

Miss Danforth's Lecture.

A proof of the growing sentiment in favor of "Woman's Clubs" was evidenced in the fairly representative crowd, that assembled in Irvington college, on Friday July 23rd, to listen to the lecture on "Spanish Art," delivered by Miss Danforth. True, the masculine element, was conspicuous by absence, rather than by representation—but, when one takes into consideration, that this is the season of harvest, and the section occupied by a people, having a remote analogy, to Prof. Markham's "Man with a hoe," this seeming dereliction, is easily accounted for.

It was a modern version of Veni vidi vici, for Miss Danforth, came, saw and captured her audience. A woman of grave, dignified bearing, and wonderful magnetic personality, she held her listeners spell bound, even before the subject matter of her lecture was fully elucidated.

The subject, "Spanish Art" was chosen as in a line with the course, pursued by the "Fortnightly Club" for the current year. Her handling of the subject, showed deep research—as she delved back into the distant ages, to show the influence wielded by Celt, Phoenician, Therian, Roman and Moor, in molding Spanish Art. Velasquey and Murillo were given prominent places, as true artists, and some idea of the beauty and grandeur of their works were shown in the really fine illustrations, depicting some of their greatest paintings.

But "Spanish Art" was not all of her lecture. She had been a delegate to the "Federation of Women's Clubs" recently held in Frankfort, and her talks on "Clubs and Club work," was listened to with rapt attention.

She gave a glowing account of the noble work being done, by the "Federation"—and the desire evidenced by the ladies to uplift those "heathens," not far from our doors.

She spoke of the really good missionary work, that the various clubs were trying to accomplish, in the mountain districts, by teaching, in a kindly christian way, the domestic and culinary arts, to those isolated people.

With Miss M. T. Elder, in Donahoe's Magazine, she believes that "The man with the hoe" so terribly painted, in Prof Markham's poem, is not a misnomer but a startling nineteenth century reality, and,

"Who loosened and let down this jaw,
Oh Masters, Lords and Rulers in all lands,
How will you ever straighten up this shape?"

The query will at least, be partially answered, when club work widens woman's sphere, and her influence for the good and the pure, in language and in life makes itself felt throughout the length and breadth of the land.

A "FORTNIGHTLY" MEMBER.

Bismark's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels are out of order. GUSTON.

Miss Maude Adkisson made a flying trip to Brandenburg, on business last week.

The Misses Pulliam, of Louisville, are visiting their father, Judge Pulliam, of this place.

Mrs. T. E. Ditto and children, of Louisville, are visiting Mrs. Ditto's father, Mr. John Coq.

Misses Minnie and Lula Bland, after having spent a week's visit with Miss Florence Anderson, of this place, returned home last Saturday.

Master Embry Wrather who has been attending school in Chicago, for the past ten months, arrived here Sunday night accompanied by his cousin, Nannie Pusey, of that city.

Mr. Wm. Brown who is Warden at the Frankfort penitentiary, returned to his duties there this week. Will has been on a visit to his family near here for several days. Will is a jolly good natured fellow.

Mr. Levi Hobbs, of near Big Spring deliyered a bunch of fattened hogs at the depot the other day, and five of his hogs were dead when he took them out of his wagon. It was during the extreme hot days.

Mr. Alex Montgomery, of near Big Spring, made a detour down through this and adjoining neighborhoods last week in the sheep interest. Alex is as clever and as liberal a stock buyer as ever struck this brush.

Frank Miller, who works on the L. H. & St. L., caught a young coon up at "Horse Shoe Bend" between here and Ekron and has it as a pet, but he says all coons dont look alike to him, by any means, for he can tell his any where he sees it.

The friends and relatives of Mr. Ben Clarkson's family, sincerely sympathize with each and every one of them in the loss of husband and father. Mr. Clarkson was loved by all who knew him, for he had an ever kind word for every one, besides being one of the most energetic and best busines men our county has ever had.

Mr. Owen who is traveling in the interest of the Louisville tobacco trade, spent the night with R. J. Patteson last week. He has been on the Louisville "Breaks" for several years and can tell many amusing incidents that have happened there. He relates many a joke that Mr. Andy Graham perpetrated on the frequenters of that place.

Politics is getting at such a pitch around here that men are seen around any old place making speeches. Mr. T. E Conniff, after coming in off the band car the other evening, was standing out in his front yard making the hottest kind of a speech, and seeing no one present but his family who were playing croquet in the side yard, I asked him whom he was speaking to and he said he saw me coming up the road, and thought he would just get started good by the time I arrived, well I gave him an audience for a few minutes, and then told him that I couldn't stand on his platform unless Bill Goebel was our nominee, so it is just that way Tom, Goebel and his election law can't carry this state—see?

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it?
And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or ten years more?
Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer.
It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth.
It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also.
It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair.
It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation.
We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you.
If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,
Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.
