Lawyers, Justices of the Peace, Notaries Public, Banks, Officers of Private Corporations, and business men generally, will find in this book a collection of forms of legal instruments, such as they will be required to use most frequently in the ordinary course of business. Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, and others will here find forms of Commercial transactions, Copartnership, Deeds, Mortgages, Contracts, Bills of Sale, Promissory Notes, Patents, etc., embracing forms for almost every possible business transaction that requires a legal instrument. Such a hand-book can not fail to be of great assistance to all classes of men who desire to transact their business properly.

In the preparation of the work the author has carefully examined and followed the most approved forms of legal instruments in actual use in the several States; such as are sanctioned by the courts and common use. He has aimed to make it, in all respects, an accurate, reliable, and safe guide.
