

Last Sunday as it rained nearly all day we could not get out at all in the morning but at night Miss Light and I, ventured to the Baptist Church - we had none. It is a long walk but Dr. Coffman kindly waited and escorted us home. Her talk pretended to be a missionary one but in reality was a political discourse on the immigration and emigration of the Chinese and Blaine and other Senator's remarks upon the subject in Congress. and the manner in which it was used to obtain votes by the two great contending party. I agreed with the Dr's comment that it was very instructive.

Are you still without a girl? How is Father and Cal and

Brother and what are they doing with them -
 Write me a real long letter soon with lots of news in it.
 Love your little daughter
 Saml. P. Collins.

Georgetown Ky.
 March 6th 1879

Dear Mother. It is not my usual night for writing but if I wait till Monday, how long it would be before I heard from you. At any rate, cant you and Sister give me two letters a week, only for thirteen weeks now. There is so much I want to know of home and what each one is doing that I could almost fill a letter with questions and there is so little here to write about. There is no life in Georgetown except the schools and one tires of the same subject, so we do very