LOOKING FOR THE PERFECT CHRISTMAS GIFT? THE SOLUTION IS THE OFFICIAL UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY BASKETBALL BOOK

by Randall S. Baron and Russell Rice

CELEBRATING MORE THAN 80 YEARS OF WILDCAT TRADITION

The Official University of Kentucky Basketball Book reviews the Wildcat history, from the championships and glory to the defeats and frustration. It examines the early teams of this century, and continues through the era of the incomparable Adolph Rupp and Joe B. Hall, to Eddie Sutton. The book is designed to appeal to all Kentucky fans — young and old, novice and expert. It is written in an informal style, featuring a quiz format that makes learning about the Wildcats an enjoyable experience. There are over 150 special photographs. The Official University of Kentucky Basketball Book is perfect for halftime entertainment, parties, gifts, competing with a friend, or reliving the great moments in UK basketball on a frigid winter night. $9.95

Also available: The Official Kentucky Derby Quiz Book ($11.95) by Randall Baron and Philip Von Borries

Thank God For B-Ball

Dear Sir:

Enclosed is my check to renew my subscription to The Cats' Pause. There are no better publications than TCP and Big Blue Basketball. I have just finished watching the UK-Florida football game and I am just as disgusted as I was after watching the UK-Georgia game. About all I can say right now is thank God for UK basketball. Since UK football will never be able to compete in the SEC, couldn't the university take all that money, scholarships, etc., and put it to good use? Maybe start a soccer team. That's "real" football, anyway. And it requires a lot more athletic ability than football.

Well, that's enough of my complaining. I'm just looking forward to basketball season. At least UK can hold its own in the SEC in that sport. And this should be a great year. TCP, keep up the good work. I'm looking forward to seeing the 'Cats in the Omni.

(Editor's note: Too late, Lanny. Although it is only given club-sport status, UK already has a soccer program.)

Crunch The Cards!

Dear Sir:

Enclosed you will find a check renewing my subscription for another year. I look forward to receiving TCP every week as I read it cover to cover the minute I pull it out of the mailbox. I have been an avid Big Blue fan for over 20 years now. I am looking forward to seeing them play this year against Georgia as I have just purchased my front-row tickets for the Jan. 2 game.

I see Dwane Casey is doing another great job of recruiting (as he also did at WKU, where I am an alumnus at) along with the rest of the staff. Nothing would please me more than to watch UK dominate Louisville the way it did last year. I am still savoring the victory from last year. Good luck to the '87-88 basketball team as I am pulling for you 100 percent win or lose!

Sincerely,

Mike Tooley
Atlanta, Georgia
