

KENTUCKY

Alumnus

Fall 2000 ♦ Volume 71 ♦ Number 3

ON THE COVER 10

A Body of Evidence

Carrie Morgan Whitcomb '67 grew up in Eastern Kentucky riding into the hollows with the Frontier Nursing Service as a child. After earning two degrees, Whitcomb went to work for the U.S. Postal Inspection Service where she was one of the first to dissect the handiwork of the Unabomber. Now she is the director of the National Center for Forensic Science, a clearing-house providing educational materials, training, research and, eventually, certification of forensic science personnel. By Linda Perry, Cover Photo: Jon Goell, Goell Photography.

FEATURES

¡El Programa de Estudios en Español es Excelente! 14

The UK Department of Spanish has been ranked in the Top 20 since 1972. Today it is ranked 19th among public universities in Spanish research and graduate education. By John Scharfenberger

Minimally Invasive Surgery 18

Everyone fears "going under the knife." At UK the Center for Minimally Invasive Surgery is removing that fear by perfecting revolutionary "keyhole" surgery techniques that include a virtual reality, dry run of your specific surgery. By Maureen McArthur

Lexington Community College 20

No longer part of a 13-community college system, Lexington Community College is forging exciting new relationships with the rest of the University and extending its partnerships throughout the world. By Liz Howard Demoran

Healing Harps 24

Alumna Diane Schneider '71 AS, '74 LAW added a theology degree to the two she earned at UK, and now uses the sweet strains of harp music to soothe and help the dying. By Susan Lampert Smith

INSERT

The University of Kentucky Alumni Association's Annual Report recounts a year of new ventures, increasing membership and improved communications predicated on sound stewardship of resources.

DEPARTMENTS

UK Beat 3

- #1 in rural health, Horse Mania, faculty awards and honors, new programs and more.
- Call to Greatness capital campaign reviews past year.

Sports 8

Alumnus Jim Daopoulos monitoring NFL referees; How well do you know your football Wildcats? Basketball schedules and more

The Open Door to Friendship and Membership 26

- Focus on Professor Greg Brock's summer teaching/bike trek across America
- Calendar, Homecoming, Club News and more
- Class Notes

Moments in Time 45

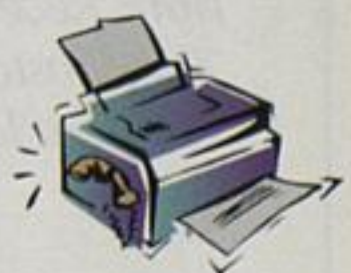

A look back, 25, 50 and 75 years plus can you identify the people and events in the photo?

Bookmark 44

Elizabeth Hardwick releases another book in her distinguished career. Professor Holman Hamilton's book-in-progress at his death is completed by fellow historian Peter J. Sehlinger '69. The definitive Louisville encyclopedia, advice on being a school savvy parent, and a book for Civil War buffs make list.

FaxLine Focus 47

Gathering feature tips from you!

Presidential Perspective 48

The magnitude of Alumni pride and loyalty. By President Charles T. Wethington Jr.