

Untouched by the embittered years of war and strife, the bluegrass region of Kentucky is a deeply entrenched emblem to the sheer beauty of peace. Year upon year the various products developed in this country stay pure and beneficial, contributed by a blend of people found nowhere else in the entire world, people who are congenial and kind through habit.

In the center of this paradise are we, the students of the University of Kentucky, little realizing how fortunate we are to be placed in this region of contentment. Wherever you turn, beauty hoves into view in the shape of a blue-green countryside, a southern belle, or a herd of roving horses. To the happiness that is the atmosphere of the bluegrass region and to all its sights; the lovely women, the powerful thoroughbred, we dedicate the 1954 Kentuckian.
