

still strong support for the capital projects, especially for the Commonwealth Library project, and the library facility will remain the top priority of the University. He asked everyone to keep working to benefit higher education and the University of Kentucky.

F. Medical Center Presentation

President Wethington noted that a recommendation for a new Chancellor for the Chandler Medical Center was on the agenda and said it was appropriate that Chancellor Peter Bosomworth make a presentation on the current status and the future directions of the Chandler Medical Center prior to turning over the reins to his successor.

Chancellor Bosomworth said it was a pleasure to address the Board, and he looked forward to a very smooth transition in terms of leadership in the Medical Center. Through a series of slides, he provided a brief history of the Medical Center. He discussed the Medical Center's mission, vision and values, trends and accomplishments and the impact of health care reform which will confront the Medical Center. In conclusion, he pointed out that much has been accomplished at the Medical Center; however, there is still much left to be done. He then entertained questions from the members of the Board.

President Wethington expressed appreciation to Chancellor Bosomworth for bringing the Board up-to-date on the Chandler Medical Center.

G. Resolution Honoring Dr. John Wesley Hatch

Judge Wilhoit read the following resolution honoring Dr. John Wesley Hatch and recommended its adoption:

WHEREAS, in the spring of 1948, John Wesley Hatch, then not yet twenty, had completed his sophomore year at the "Kentucky State College for Negroes," now known as Kentucky State University. His dream was to become a lawyer and practice in Kentucky. Unfortunately the "Day Law" forbade any educational institution in the Commonwealth of Kentucky to teach black and white students on the same campus under penalty of heavy fines, and

WHEREAS, John Wesley Hatch nonetheless applied for admission to the College of Law of the University of Kentucky. The Board of Trustees, after consultation with President Herman Donovan and Dean Elvis Stahr, decided to circumvent the "Day Law" by admitting John Wesley Hatch to the University of Kentucky College of Law while providing for his legal education by the faculty of the College of Law on the campus of Kentucky State, and

WHEREAS, in the Fall Semester of 1948 John Wesley Hatch was taught by five members of the University's regular law faculty who shuttled daily between a class of ninety first-year students in Lexington and a solo class of one in Frankfort. In the Spring Semester of that year an alternate solution was devised, and a faculty of six practicing lawyers were employed to teach John Wesley Hatch, still solo, in Frankfort, and
