

Guthrie—Dr. Flint—Success of the School—Dr. Yandell—Intrigues—Chair vacated—How filled—The medical faculty—Honorary degree offered, and refused—Graduating class—Their opinion and action—How the two medical schools of Lexington and Louisville were raised up, and how they declined . . . 390

CHAPTER XIV.

Have written on too many subjects—Authorship—Yellow fever—Dr. Rush at length convinced of its non-contagion—Plague—A French writer on it—Prison discipline 417

CHAPTER XV.

Literary and scientific portion of my Autobiography—Catalogue—Conclusion 429

APPENDIX 451