

SO MANY

The Anthropology department decided to exhibit a few of its more interesting finds in Lafferty Hall. But a lot of work had to be done before the show cases were completed.

Wesley Creel (left), curator, created an archeological "dig" to show students how one looks. The pottery fragments were washed (top left),